$1.6 Billion Education Aid Program Asked

Eisenhower Outlines Proposal in Special Note to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today sent Congress a four-year, $1.6 billion federal-state program of aid for education. The blueprint aims to help America beat Russia in science and technology.

The President in a special message said that the nation's immediate security aims in this space era can be furthered only by the efforts of individuals whose training is already far advanced.

"Because of the growing importance of science and technology, we must necessarily give special attention to education in science and engineering," he said.

The program Eisenhower sent to the Capitol was first announced in detail by Secretary of Welfare Folsom last Dec. 30. Among other things, it calls for granting 10,000 scholarships annually for four years, with emphasis on courses in science and mathematics.

THE PRESIDENT also called for granting graduate fellowships to bolster teaching strength, again with emphasis on science and technology. His message mentioned no specific number of such fellowships, but Folsom said last month the program contemplates providing 1,000 the first year and 1,500 annually for each of the next three years.

Of the $1.6 billion, the federal government would contribute $1 billion and the states and local communities $600 million.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) announced he will introduce legislation Tuesday to carry out Eisenhower's education program. He voiced hope it would receive "strong bipartisan support."

But in advance of Eisenhower's special message, some Democrats already have criticized the new program as falling short of needs.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said Eisenhower should have proposed aid for school construction again this year. Previous Eisenhower requests along this line have never gotten far in Congress.

Kennedy said government statistics show the classroom shortage is still bad. He announced he will introduce this week a bill calling for $1½ billion in federal grants to the states for school construction over a five-year period. The Eisenhower program faced other pitfalls. Some members of Congress are opposed to federal aid to education in any form. And there is a possibility the school segregation issue may be raised in connection with the program.

Stolen Car Rams Auto, Hurting 5

COLUMBUS (AP)—The teen-age driver of a stolen car attempted to avoid a police roadblock here Sunday night and crashed into a parked auto, injuring its five occupants.

In addition, two of the three youths in the stolen station wagon were injured, police said.

Authorities identified the driver of the stolen car as a 16-year-old Columbus boy and his companions as 16 and 15. The driver was cited for reckless operation of a motor vehicle and auto theft.

All the injured were hospitalized. They included two children, one 5 years old and the other 16 months old, who were in the rammed auto with their parents.

Israeli Army Chief Quits, Goes to School

JERUSALEM (AP)—Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, tough one-eyed native Palestinian who commanded Israel's army in the invasion of Egypt, prepared today to return to his studies in archaeology.

Dayan resigned as chief of staff Sunday and was replaced by his deputy, Russian-born Brig. Haim Laskov, effective Saturday.

Dayan, 43, denied reports he has political ambitions. He said he had decided some time ago to quit the army to resume his studies at Hebrew University here.

Pickaway Missile Base Rumor Branded Myth by Newspaper

The report that the government is planning a missile base in northwestern Pickaway County has been branded a "myth" by The Columbus Citizen.

In a Sunday Page 1 story, the Citizen said "...no missile base is being planned, contrary to a report in The Columbus Dispatch."

According to the report in yesterday's paper, the rumor was started when two surveyors of the Department of the Interior began tramping over farmland in Scioto Twp., north of Route 316 between the Columbus-Darbyville and Circleville-Commercial Point Roads.

The two surveyors, Dorice Ouelette and Deloise Thompson told the Citizen they are on a routine mapping project which included about 57 square miles in northcentral and northwest Pickaway County.

They said they were completing work on the "Darbyville Quadrangle"—an Interior Department map—as part of the department's project to rescale maps. The last survey was in 1911.

The Citizen reported that both Air Force and Army spokesmen said there are no plans for a missile base in Pickaway County. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) denied he had confirmed the missile base report to The Dispatch, according to The Citizen. Rivers is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee real estate sub-committee.

The surveyors told The Citizen that they have been using Circleville as headquarters during their stay in this area.

Mideast Pledged U. S. Protection

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told leaders of the five Baghdad Pact nations today the United States will support their nations with "mobile power of great force" against any Communist invasion.

Dulles' keynote speech at the opening of the Middle East alliance's Ministerial Council meeting emphasized that any potential aggressor "knows in advance that his losses from aggression would far exceed any possible gains."

But, he said, "if perchance deterrence fails" the United States will contribute its mobile power to save the Middle East.

Premier Adnan Menderes of Turkey formally opened the conference in the closely guarded Parliament building. Top leaders of the five pact members (Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan) were present. The United States, as an associate member of the alliance, also has delegates attending as observers.

Dulles told the premiers, foreign ministers, generals and diplomats at the opening session that the United States will continue to provide economic aid to individual members of the pact.

HE EMPHASIZED the Moslem members must strike a proper balance between military and economic efforts.

Turning to the question of a disarmament agreement with the Russians, he said: "The United States ardently seeks limitation of armaments on a basis of equality. But never will the United States accept the Soviet Communist thesis that men, because they are religious, must deny themselves the need to defend their religious freedom."

The secretary warned against what he called the fanaticism of a "materialistic, atheistic group" seeking domination of the world.

"This fanatical group," he continued, "choosing every device without moral restraint, by use of revolution, military conquest and subversion has come to rule their part of the world and they exploit human resources to extend their domination."

"That is a threat of immense proportions. We need not, however, be dismayed. The greater danger is always the danger which comes from blindness to danger."

Search Parties Seek Boy Lost in Canyon

WILLOWS, Calif. (AP)—More than 100 sheriff's deputies and volunteers continued today their search for a 12-year-old Tenderfoot Boy Scout in snow-mantled Grindstone Canyon 40 miles west of here.

Dennis Wurschmidt became separated from his troop Saturday shortly before a storm hit the rocky gorge in the Mendocino National Forest of northern California. Three feet of new snow hampered searching.

Threats of Counterblow In Venezuela Tapering Off

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The threat of a counterblow against Venezuela's revolutionary government eased off today. After a night of tension, the ruling junta appeared to have re-established order.

Reports that diehard supporters of ex-dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez were preparing to move against the junta put the nation on edge Sunday night.

But as the hours passed there were indications the people, groggery with new-found freedom, were strongly backing the junta.

Backers of the Jimenez regime sped in cars through the streets of Caracas and other cities last night firing indiscriminately at civilians, and troops. One woman was killed and about 10 persons wounded.

The ruling junta went into emergency session Sunday night and armored cars appeared on the capital streets.

THE JUNTA proclaimed its armed forces were in full control. But peace and order remained in peril until all diehard supporters of Perez Jimenez were rounded up throughout the country.

Authorities breathed more easily, however, over word from another ousted strongman, exiled Juan D. Peron of Argentina, that he would leave Venezuela "as soon as possible."

Peron, who took refuge in the Dominican Embassy after last week's uprising, said he expected to leave Tuesday, probably for the Dominican Republic. There, dictator Rafael Trujillo has already provided a haven for Perez Jimenez.

Former political leaders driven from Venezuela during the Perez Jimenez regime began flocking back.

In the vanguard was Jovito Villalba, chief of the Union Republicana Democratic party, who claimed victory in the 1952 presidential election. Perez Jimenez chased him out of the country and declared himself elected.

Villalba came from New York.

Stepping from his plane, he accused the U. S. government of supporting dictators like Perez Jimenez, but he praised the American people "who have placed themselves at the forefront of the world because they worked harder than anyone else."

O'Neill Plans To Campaign Despite His Heart Attack

Egypt-Syria Merger Near

Cairo To Be Capital Of New Federation

CAIRO (AP)—The merger of Egypt and Syria into a single state is reported imminent. The newspaper Al Ahram said President Nasser and Syrian President Sukhri Kuwatly would announce the union today.

The Egyptian and Syrian leaders proclaimed the advantages of the proposed federation, and the Cairo press gave it top play.

The public emphasis on the plan apparently was timed to take the edge off the opening of the Baghdad Pact conference today in Ankara, Turkey.

Al Ahram said Cairo would be the capital, the federation's name would be "The United Arab State" and there would be one government, one parliament and one army.

Nasser told visiting U. S. newspaper and radio editors Egypt and Syria have agreed on all except minor details.

ALTHOUGH Syrian officials have been talking constantly about a federation, Egyptian leaders had not commented officially in recent days. Syria has been pushing the plan since it first was proposed two years ago.

Both Syria and Egypt have received large amounts of Soviet economic and military aid. Their armies already are linked under a joint military command headed by an Egyptian and their foreign policies generally coincide.

Maxson Seeks GOP Nod for Commissioner

Clarence M. Maxson, 42, Route 1, Laurelville, last Friday took out petitions for the Republican nomination for candidate for Pickaway County Commissioner. Also in the race is Eddie Pritchard, Ashville.

Maxson was born April 11, 1915 in Ross County and graduated from Salter Creek Twp. High School in 1934. Since graduation, Maxson has been in the farming industry, owning a farm in Salt-creek Twp.

Maxson also is a field engineer, selling steel corn cribs, silos and tool sheds.

Maxson breeds registered Polled Herefords and is a director and past vice president of the Polled Hereford Assn. He has been active in community and county affairs, belonging to the Pickaway County Agricultural Society.

Maxson is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 527, Adelphi; the Scottish Rite, Columbus and Evergreen Chapter Eastern Star No. 169, Adelphi. He is also a member of the Salter Creek Valley Pomona, Ohio and National Grange.

MAXSON ATTENDS the Adelphi M. E. Church. He is a member of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary Assn. and the Pickaway County Farm Bureau. He taught four years in the Veterans' Vocational Agriculture program at Pickaway and Jackson Twp. schools. He has served on the Salter Creek Twp. Board of Education.

Maxson and his wife, Jeannette, have three children; Donald, a farmer near Whisler, Ramon of Laurelville, and Mrs. Wanda Luckhart, whose husband is manager of the Pickaway Livestock Assn. The Maxsons have four grandchildren. This will be Maxson's first attempt in politics.

Firestone Tire Ads Said Misleading

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission charged Sunday that Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. has been advertising second-line automobile tires as first-line.

The FTC said the firm was misrepresenting the facts when it claimed that "Firestone Super Champion" and "Firestone Delux Super Champion" tires were "original equipment on eight million new cars as they left the factory."

Actually, the two brands are second-line tires which have never been used as original equipment, the FTC said.

Nixon Visit To Soviet Eyed

Speculation Increases On Possibility of Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon and Soviet leaders apparently would like to meet. They might do so on Nixon's scheduled European tour next summer.

The vice president reportedly received no formal invitation to visit Russia during a surprise 42-minute meeting Friday with departing Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin.

But one result of that unusual conference is increased speculation that the U.S.S.R. wants to know a lot more about Nixon's thinking than they could learn through the Zarubin talks.

Top Soviet leaders might like to get a good look at a man who may be president and who won his political spurs by pounding away at opponents he contended were soft on communism.

Nixon, in turn, apparently would like to get his own personal impression of Nikita S. Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders with whom he would have to deal if he became president.

NIXON INTENDS to take off for Europe in August or September.

In the minds of some of his friends, the trip might have two advantages in his expected bid for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination:

1. It would round out his personal acquaintance with world statesmen.

2. It also would telescope his congressional campaign role. It would permit him to make some high-level speeches as the campaign closed, without being required to hammer away daily at the Democrats.

U.S. Mothers Hold Hope for 3 Sons

HONG KONG (AP)—Three American mothers have returned from a visit to their sons imprisoned in Red China, weary but cheered by Chinese hints that the three men may get clemency.

The three women were unwilling to discuss the possibilities of their sons' release, but they recalled a Chinese assurance made just before they left that good behavior might bring leniency.

The three women are Mrs. Ruth Redmond of Yonkers, N. Y., whose son, Hugh, 38, is serving a life sentence in Shanghai; Mrs. Mary Downey, of New Britain, Conn., whose son, John, 27, was imprisoned for a life term in Peiping; and Mrs. Jessie Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., whose son, Richard, 30, is serving a 20-year term in Peiping.

Navy Tries Again To Fire Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy is busy in another effort to get its temperamental Vanguard rocket off the ground in the next few days. Unless it performs quickly, the Army's Jupiter-C missile may be the first to shoot up a U. S. satellite.

Informal sources disclosed that bad weather and a frustrating series of mechanical bugs in the complex Vanguard spoiled several attempts to fire it last week. The first Vanguard blew up on its launching pad here last Dec. 6.

These failures have thrown the U. S. satellite program far off schedule. If a goal set by President Eisenhower had been met, three or four tiny American "moons" would be in orbit now and the Vanguard would launch bigger satellites in March.

A curtain of secrecy surrounded the latest attempt. Facts were not made known to the public until Sunday night.

The Air Force fired a Snark missile 5,000 miles to Ascension Island off the African coast Saturday. Informal sources said the missile "landed in its assigned impact area."

AT THE SAME time, the Navy was busy with the Vanguard. It was learned that a launching of the rocket was only a few minutes away Saturday when the attempt was postponed.

As one delay continued to run into another, the conviction grew that the Vanguard must fly in a matter of a very few days or the Jupiter-C may take off first, carrying a 29.7-pound satellite.

The Vanguard still is experimental. Its second-stage guidance "brain" never has been tested in flight. All components of the Jupiter-C have been flown and were reported to have performed well.

Authorities close to the Vanguard project said heavy rains, a rarity at this season in Florida, were troublesome during last week's firing attempts.

Defective minor parts were found in the rocket during the countdown checks and had to be replaced. Something went wrong with the 6.4-inch satellite, so that it stopped sending radio signals.

One of Florida's worst winters has interfered with efforts to step up the U. S. missile and rocket programs. Rain washed out an attempt to fire a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile. Friday, water in underground conduits caused a power failure.

Fuch Party Pressing Transantarctic Trek

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Dr. Vivian Fuchs radioed Scott Base today he was "going strong" 117 miles from the South Pole on his transantarctic trek.

Fuchs, who left the pole with his British party Friday, hopes to reach Scott Base, 1,200 miles from the pole, before the winter really sets in. It will be the first overland crossing of Antarctica.

Ohio GOP Leaders Confident O'Neill To Recover Fully

COLUMBUS (AP)—Although shocked and surprised by Gov. C. William O'Neill's heart attack which was disclosed today, Ohio's Republican leaders expressed confidence he will make a full recovery.

State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss reported that he had not known of the attack, which occurred last Wednesday night, until today. He said he was deeply shocked and added, in a statement dictated from his Akron office:

"During his public career, the governor has established a reputation as an intense and energetic public official. During recent months the many pressing problems of state have placed a heavy burden on him.

"I sincerely hope that tests will show that there will be no serious aftereffects to his health."

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, unsuccessful GOP candidate for governor in 1954, declared:

"All of us are praying for the speedy recovery of our governor. Few people realize the tremendous strain which the position imposes upon the incumbent.

Aide Labels Seizure as Only 'Mild'

Governor Confined To Bed in Mansion; Medics Continue Tests

COLUMBUS (AP)—Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill has suffered a "mild heart attack," but it will make no difference in his plans to run for a second term, an aide announced today.

In a noon bulletin, attending physicians said the governor's condition is good in all respects.

The attack occurred last Wednesday night, but was not announced until today because physicians needed the time to make their diagnosis certain, O'Neill's press secretary, Hal W. Conefry, reported.

"As of today," Conefry said, "this will not affect his future plans, except that it probably will mean that the governor will be unable to conduct the extensive, vigorous campaign that he waged two years ago."

Nevertheless, the announcement stunned political circles.

In Akron, State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss said, "I am deeply shocked." He declined to predict the effect on the coming state campaign.

LI. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, first in line to succeed to a gubernatorial vacancy, had this to say:

"I DO HOPE that the reports that the governor's illness is mild are true and that he soon will be enjoying his normal health."

Under Ohio's constitution, the lieutenant governor is empowered to take over as chief executive in the event of the death, resignation or disability of the governor. During a discussion at the last legislature on the possibility of such a development, lawmakers indicated that disability would mean lack of mental capacity by the governor to perform his duties.

The governor cancelled all his engagements and took to his bed Wednesday night upon his return from a speaking day in Dayton.

But it was not until this morning that Conefry called newsmen to his office and issued this statement:

"The governor has had a mild heart attack when he was returning home from Dayton Wednesday night.

"In the interest of his safety, he has been kept in bed and is receiving tests which will continue until he is well.

"The tests will determine whether or not he has had any heart muscle damage.

"His course to date has been satisfactory."

Aides said the 41-year-old governor probably will be kept in bed for the next three weeks. He is at the mansion in suburban Bexley.

A HOSPITAL bed was moved into the private apartment there which the governor's family occupies.

Attending physicians are Drs. George I. Nelson and Robert C. Kirk, both of Columbus. The physician (Continued on Page Two) speedy recovery of our governor. Few people realize the tremendous strain which the position imposes upon the incumbent.

"Fortunately, doctors have diagnosed the attack as a mild one and there is no reason but to believe that the stout heart of Bill O'Neill will be able to throw off the effects of this slight attack."

In Toledo, Michael V. DiSalle, who last week announced for the Democratic gubernatorial primary said, "This is a terrible thing. O'Neill is a young man."

DiSalle, defeated by O'Neill in the 1956 general election, said he hopes O'Neill makes an early recovery.

"As far as I myself am concerned, before making any more statements in the campaign I will wait to see what the extent of his recovery will be and his ability to participate in the campaign," DiSalle said. "I certainly am not going to participate in any attack on him while he is down."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission charged Sunday that Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. has been advertising second-line automobile tires as first-line.

The FTC said the firm was misrepresenting the facts when it claimed that "Firestone Super Champion" and "Firestone Deluxe Super Champion" tires were "original equipment on eight million new cars as they left the factory."

Actually, the two brands are second-line tires which have never been used as original equipment, the FTC said.

Nixon Visit To Soviet Eyed

Speculation Increases On Possibility of Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Soviet leaders apparently would like to meet. They might do so on Nixon's scheduled European tour next summer.

The vice president reportedly received no formal invitation to visit Russia during a surprise 42-minute meeting Friday with departing Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin.

But one result of that unusual conference is increased speculation that the U.S.S.R. wants to know a lot more about Nixon's thinking than they could learn through the Zarubin talks.

Top Soviet leaders might like to get a good look at a man who may be president and who won his political spurs by pounding away at opponents he contended were soft on communism.

Nixon, in turn, apparently would like to get his own personal impression of Nikita S. Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders with whom he would have to deal if he became president.

U.S. Mothers Hold Hope for 3 Sons

HONG KONG (AP) — Three American mothers have returned from a visit to their sons imprisoned in Red China, weary but cheered by Chinese hints that the three men may get clemency.

The three women were unwilling to discuss the possibilities of their sons' release, but they recalled a Chinese assurance made just before they left that good behavior might bring leniency.

The three women are Mrs. Ruth Redmond of Yonkers, N. Y., whose son, Hugh, 38, is serving a life sentence in Shanghai; Mrs. Mary Downey, of New Britain, Conn., whose son, John, 27, was imprisoned for a life term in Peiping; and Mrs. Jessie Fetcaue of Lynn, Mass., whose son, Richard, 30, is serving a 20-year term in Peiping.

Pacific Coast Getting Swift Interceptors

Navy Tries Again To Fire Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy is busy in another effort to get its temperamental Vanguard rocket off the ground in the next few days. Unless it performs quickly, the Army's Jupiter-C missile may be the first to shoot up a U. S. satellite.

Informal sources disclosed that bad weather and a frustrating series of mechanical bugs in the complex Vanguard spoiled several attempts to fire it last week. The first Vanguard blew up on its launching pad here last Dec. 6.

These failures have thrown the U. S. satellite program far off schedule. If a goal set by President Eisenhower had been met, three or four tiny American "moons" would be in orbit now and the Vanguard would launch bigger satellites in March.

A curtain of secrecy surrounded the latest attempt. Facts were not made known to the public until Sunday night.

The Air Force fired a Snark missile 5,000 miles to Ascension Island off the African coast Saturday. Informal sources said the missile "landed in its assigned impact area."

Ike's Brother, Arthur, Dies At Age of 71

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Arthur B. Eisenhower, 71, eldest brother of President Eisenhower, died of a heart attack at his home Sunday night. He had had several seizures in recent years.

There was no word from the White House whether the President would attend the funeral. Arrangements for the services are incomplete.

A retired banker Arthur Eisenhower started with the Commerce Trust Co. in Kansas City as an errand boy at $5 a week in 1905 and by 1934 was the bank's executive vice president.

He became vice chairman of the board in 1955. He resigned that post and as president of the smaller Plaza Bank of Commerce in November of 1956. A few weeks later he suffered a heart attack.

At the time of his death, he was a director of Trans World Airlines, the Coleman Co. of Wichita, Kan., and several Kansas City firms.

During his banking career Eisenhower became recognized as a national authority on flour and grain financing.

He was one of six brothers who grew up in Abilene, Kan., and was the first to strike out on his own. A mild-mannered man of great reserve, he shunned personal publicity that arose after his brother became President.

Aide Labels Seizure as Only 'Mild'

Governor Confined To Bed in Mansion; Medics Continue Tests

COLUMBUS (AP) — Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill has suffered a "mild heart attack," but it will make no difference in his plans to run for a second term, an aide announced today.

In a noon bulletin, attending physicians said the governor's condition is good in all respects.

The attack occurred last Wednesday night, but was not announced until today because physicians needed the time to make their diagnosis certain, O'Neill's press secretary, Hal W. Conefry, reported.

"As of today," Conefry said, "this will not affect his future plans, except that it probably will mean that the governor will be unable to conduct the extensive, vigorous campaign that he waged two years ago."

Nevertheless, the announcement stunned political circles.

In Akron, State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss said, "I am deeply shocked." He declined to predict the effect on the coming state campaign.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, first in line to succeed to a gubernatorial vacancy, had this to say:

"I DO HOPE that the reports that the governor's illness is mild are true and that he soon will be enjoying his normal health."

Under Ohio's constitution, the lieutenant governor is empowered to take over as chief executive in the event of the death, resignation or disability of the governor.

During a discussion at the last legislature on the possibility of such a development, lawmakers indicated that disability would mean lack of mental capacity by the governor to perform his duties.

The governor cancelled all his engagements and took to his bed Wednesday night upon his return from a speaking date in Dayton.

But it was not until this morning that Conefry called newsmen to his office and issued this statement:

"The governor has had a mild heart attack when he was returning home from Dayton Wednesday night."

"In the interest of his safety, he has been kept in bed and is receiving tests which will continue until he is well."

"The tests will determine whether or not he has had any heart muscle damage."

"His course to date has been satisfactory."

Aides said the 41-year-old governor probably will be kept in bed for the next three weeks. He is at the mansion in suburban Bexley.

A HOSPITAL bed was moved into the private apartment there which the governor's family occupies.

Attending physicians are Drs. George I. Nelson and Robert C. Kirk, both of Columbus. The physician (Continued on Page Two)

Ohio GOP Leaders Confident O'Neill To Recover Fully

COLUMBUS (AP) — Although shocked and surprised by Gov. C. William O'Neill's heart attack which was disclosed today, Ohio's Republican leaders expressed confidence he will make a full recovery.

State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss reported that he had not known of the attack, which occurred last Wednesday night, until today. He said he was deeply shocked and added, in a statement dictated from his Akron office:

"During his public career, the governor has established a reputation as an intense and energetic public official. During recent months the many pressing problems of state have placed a heavy burden on him."

"I sincerely hope that tests will show that there will be no serious aftereffects to his health."

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, unsuccessful GOP candidate for governor in 1954, declared:

"All of us are praying for the speedy recovery of our governor. Few people realize the tremendous strain which the position imposes upon the incumbent."

"Fortunately, doctors have diagnosed the attack as a mild one and there is no reason but to believe that the stout heart of Bill O'Neill will be able to throw off the effects of this slight attack."

In Toledo, Michael V. DiSalle, who last week announced for the Democratic gubernatorial primary said, "This is a terrible thing. O'Neill is a young man."

DiSalle, defeated by O'Neill in the 1956 general election, said he hopes O'Neill makes an early recovery.

"As far as I myself am concerned, before making any more statements in the campaign I will wait to see what the extent of his recovery will be and his ability to participate in the campaign," DiSalle said. "I certainly am not going to participate in any attack on him while he is down."

Sales Tax Deadline Near

Examiner Plans Friday Visit

All persons having Ohio vendors' licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by Friday for the period July 1 to December 31, 1957, according to announcement today by the Department of Taxation, Division of Sales, Excise and Highway Use Taxes.

Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than January 31 to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have an examiner or examiners stationed at the Pickaway County Courthouse Friday.

Vendors seeking assistance from examiners will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over for the period July 1 to December 31, 1957.

Vendors will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the last half of 1957.

VENDORS ARE NO longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true.

When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus, Ohio. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance in the amount of tax due should accompany the return, made payable to the Treasurer of State, either by check, draft or money order.

Ex-Circleville Container Man Retires

C. Ross Hunsicker, formerly of Circleville, retired from Container Corporation of America January 1, after 24 years of service with the company. Most recently, he was an advisor on building and equipment for the firm's new $30 million bleached pulp and paperboard mill at Brewton, Ala.
Before this, he had the responsibility of building the company's kraft pulp mill at Fernandina, Fla., where he remained as plant manager until January, 1950.
Hunsicker joined Container Corporation in 1933 at its Circleville paperboard mill and was made manager the following year. In 1937, he was transferred to Fernandina where he developed plans for the company's new kraft mill, being appointed advisory director of the mill in 1950.

2 Girls Die Arm-in-Arm on Rail Trestle

BLUFF CITY, Tenn. (U) — Two frightened little girls were thrown to their deaths from a railroad trestle Saturday. Witnesses say one could have lived if she had abandoned the other. It wasn't that 13-year-old Pamela Harmon didn't want to live. Twice her fright sent her scrambling toward a water barrel where she could have pulled herself out of reach of danger.

But twice she turned again toward the oncoming train when her friend Dorothea Miller, 11, screamed, Dorothea's foot was caught in the trestle.

The second time Pamela put her arms around Dorothea and the two faced the oncoming train together.
They fell into the icy waters of the Holston River 75 feet below.

Pamela's brother David, 10, and two other children watched the drama. They had found the trestle too hazardous a way to cross the river to a friend's house.

Tire Tool, Jack Reported Stolen

Henry Caudill reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Saturday that a tire tool and bumper jack were missing from his service station at Gold Cliff Park, five miles south of Circleville.

The equipment is valued at $22. Deputy Charles Felkey handled the investigation.

5 Elderly Men Killed In Iowa Hotel Blaze

DES MOINES (U) — Five elderly men perished of suffocation early today in a $50,000 fire at the 75 cents-a-night Olympia hotel.
About 35 other residents, many of them pensioners, escaped.
The walkup hotel occupied the top two stories of an old three-story brick building.
Fire officials said an investigation was in progress.

Gov. O'Neill Suffers 'Mild' Heart Attack

sicians said he is getting all the treatment at home that he could receive in a hospital.

"He is happier there," they added.
Reports said the governor spent a restful night, that his temperature is almost normal, his pulse regular and at a normal rate throughout his illness. His blood pressure has remained normal, they added.

The governor is serving the second year of his first two-year term and has announced for election to a four-year term which would start next January.

He formerly served three terms as attorney general and six two-year terms in the Ohio House, one of them as speaker.

Confery said the physicians plan further tests, but "will not make any further prognosis immediately, nor discuss a hypothetical case of a man 42 years old." (O'Neill will be 42 next Feb. 14).

The doctors also will not make any conjecture when he will be able to leave the mansion.

Confery quoted the doctors as saying: "In the first place, there was no earlier announcement because they have been running tests to determine what the diagnosis would be. They are continuing those tests. There will be additional tests today."

It was pointed out that the governor's family has a good medical history. His father, a resident of Marietta, was 86 years old when he died. There has been no history of high blood pressure in the family, spokesmen added.

The last report at 9:45 a. m. said the governor's temperature and blood pressure were satisfactory. Confery expressed belief that the governor would be able to transact office business at the mansion. A nurse is on duty there.

Confery said the governor expressed belief his attack occurred aboard a plane on the day to Dayton Wednesday afternoon. John Hermanies of Cincinnati, an office aide, was with O'Neill at the time.

"The governor told me that while they were above Springfield, he felt uncomfortable," Hermanies reported. He said the governor told him he felt a slight tightening across his chest and in one arm. It did not increase when the plane set down at Springfield because of bad weather.

The governor and Hermanies continued to Dayton in a state highway patrol car. At Dayton the governor participated in a groundbreaking ceremony for a children's psychiatric center by operating a power shovel.

After the ground-breaking he went to a nearby schoolhouse because of the bad weather and delivered a speech indoors.

From there he went to the Blinn Hotel in Dayton for a press conference. Later he attended a cocktail party where he sipped some gingerale. In the evening he attended a Chamber of Commerce dinner at which he gave the principal address.

He was driven back to Columbus from Dayton by car. Grant Scott, a prison trustee, was the driver. Reports said the governor felt increasing discomfort on the way home and loosened his tie and belt.

Dr. Kirk, who lives nearby.
Dr. Kirk gave him a hypodermic and the governor reportedly spent a restful night. But he felt ill the following day.

"Since then he has not felt as though he was sick," Confery said.

The governor has not been placed on a diet, Confery added.

Mrs. O'Neill said her husband had breakfast about 8:45 a. m. today. He had grapefruit, a boiled egg and drank some water. He does not drink coffee.

Dr. Nelson was called in last Thursday. Confery said the physicians had been running tests and reports would be issued on developments.

Last September the governor was in bed for about five days with a cold and ear ailment. He was absent from his office for about a week at that time.

Dr. Kirk is a laboratory diagnostician and heart specialist. Confery said the physician had made no report as yet on an electrocardiogram that was taken.

Dr. Nelson is an internal medical expert with wide experience in heart cases for the last 25 years. Confery said he expected another report from the physicians after 4 p. m. today.

Schools Get Biggest Share Of State Tax Distribution

Out of every $100 in real estate, public utility and trailer taxes distributed in 1957 by Ohio county auditors, schools received $62.45; cities and villages, $21.03; counties, $12.85; townships, $2.92, and the state 75 cents to pay bonus bonds.

Total distribution to each was:
to schools, $300,556,589.67; to cities and villages, $101,241,671.18; to counties, $61,879,267.50; to townships, $14,058,283.69; to the state $3,529,909.72.
State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced these totals showing how property taxes were divided after totaling tax settlement reports from county auditors.

The total 1957 distribution to political sub-divisions was $481,265,720.47, as compared with $437,896,140.06 in 1956. Special assessments collected in 1957 ran the total property tax distribution to $498,828,496.93.

The distribution of real estate, public utility and trailer taxes in Pickaway County was as follows: County, $249,119.88; townships, $118,603.80; schools, $911,807.12, and cities and villages $91,730.46.

Christians Urged To Shelve Denominational 'Barriers'

COLUMBUS (U) — Christians should overcome denominational barriers and work together, a churchman told the opening session of the 39th annual Ohio Pastors Convention today.

Dr. J. Robert Nelson, dean of the Divinity School of Vanderbilt University, took his lead from the convention theme, "The Nature of the Unity We Seek."

"Until Christians are able to overcome all secondary divisions and estrangements from one another, they cannot with clear conscience proclaim the gospel of the reconciling work of Christ," Dr. Nelson declared.

The youthful minister said such unity does not mean total mergers or amalgamations of one denomination with another, although they may come eventually.

At present, he said, there are many practical reasons "why Christians ought to get together and work together as one people."

Among the reasons he cited were that Protestants can be a more potent influence in society and that unity will enrich their understanding of the Christian faith.

Dr. H. Beecher Hicks, pastor of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, Columbus and chairman of the convention, opened the morning session.

Dr. Hicks is the first Negro minister to serve as chairman of a state ministerial association. The Ohio Pastors Convention is the largest ministerial group in the country.

The final speaker of the morning session was Dr. Harold A. Bosley, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Evanston, Ill. Dr. Bosley will speak each day on the topic "Foundations of Christian Ethics—our faith in God."

The business meeting of the assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches will be held tonight. The principal address will be given by the Right Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, bishop of the Episcopal Church, Diocese of Ohio, and president of the Province of Midwest Episcopal Church U.S.A.

As in the past, one feature of the convention will be the finals of the Prince of Peace declamation contest, scheduled Wednesday morning.

Rites Slated Tuesday for Rail Tycoon

NEWPORT, R. I. (U) — The body of railroad tycoon Robert R. Young was due here today aboard his private railroad car for burial Tuesday next to the body of his only child.

The 60-year-old board chairman of the New York Central Railroad took his life with a blast from a double-barreled 20-gauge shotgun Saturday.

The body was found in the top floor billiard room of his 23-room winter mansion at West Palm Beach, Fla., by members of his household staff.

Authorities said the death was suicide. They could give no immediate reason.

Young's body was accompanied by his widow, the former Anita Ten Eyck O'Keefe, fellow members of the New York Central board and friends of the family.

Young will be buried in St. Mary's Episcopal churchyard, in nearby Portsmouth, next to the body of his daughter Eleanor, killed in a plane crash in Matumuck, R. I., in 1941.

Only a few days ago, Young presided at a meeting of the New York Central Railroad Board of Directors at which it was voted not to declare a dividend for the present.

New York Central's earnings for December and 1957 were expected to be announced today but two top men in Young's financial empire said in advance finances had nothing to do with Young's suicide.

Hungarian Premier Resigns Position

BUDAPEST, Hungary (U) — Premier Janus Kadar offered his resignation to Hungary's Parliament today. He will continue to run the country's Red regime as first secretary of the Communist party.

Kadar, in a speech, proposed that his 72-year-old first deputy, Prenc Muenich, step up to the premiership.

Kadar is the only leader in the Soviet bloc holding the two key posts of premier and party first secretary.

Kadar took office as premier in November 1956 when Russian troops returned to Budapest and crushed the revolt against Soviet domination.

U.S. To Pay $1,748 To Japanese Family

TOKYO (U) — The United States will pay the equivalent of $1,748 Wednesday to the husband of the Japanese woman GI William S. Girard killed on an Army firing range.

Anikichi Sakai, 47-year-old father of six children, had submitted a claim for 800,000 yen ($2,224). Japanese authorities scaled it down to 629,396 yen ($1,748) and the U. S. Army approved the payment.

Cut in Burdens Asked

VIENNA (U) — A woman official of a Communist trade union has protested that Hungary's women are being forced to do men's work. She requested that no woman should have to carry burdens heavier than 44 pounds.

Conservatives Win

MONTE CARLO (U) — Advocates of a tighter check on the purse strings in Prince Rainier's little principality have won a majority of seats on the National Council, Monaco's advisory parliament.

Frankfort Man Lands in Jail

Gets Three Days For Drunk Driving

Only one motorist was arrested here during the weekend for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

The accusation was against Purl Brown, 62, Route 1, Frankfort. Cited by the State Highway Patrol, he was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Several other motorists appeared in Municipal Court for traffic violations. Arrested by the State Highway Patrol were:

Billy W. Morgan, 30, Columbus; $30 and costs for speeding at 80 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.
Eldon L. Lane, 36, of 429 Half Ave., and George Law, 30, Fayetteville, W. Va.; each fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Ralph R. Irwin, 23, Columbus; $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour.

Margaret L. Weeks, 32, Minford; $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour.

TWO drivers arrested by city police were:

Charles V. Arledge, 33, of 223 S. Scioto St.; $25 and costs for reckless operation.
Wilson Van Adkins, 23, Cleveland; $10 and costs for passing a red light.

Clarence Waite, 74, of 134 E. Water St., was fined $10 and costs for driving left of center. He was arrested on an affidavit signed by George Dingess.

Dewey Blevins, 59, W. Mound St., and Paul Stonerock, 30, Columbus, each was fined $10 and costs for disturbing the peace. They were arrested by local police.

Paul W. Meece, 28, Route 2, Commercial Point, was fined $25 and costs for illegal use of dealer's license plates. He was booked last week by the State Highway Patrol.

Bandits Lock Up 5 In Grocery Cooler

CLEVELAND (U) — Three masked robbers forced five persons into a meat cooler during a supermarket robbery, but the captives luckily escaped a half-hour later when discovered by a store clerk.

Jack Wynbrandt, 42, of South Euclid, his wife and two sons, and a butcher who works in the east side supermarket were greeted by the robbers when they opened the store Sunday.

The gunmen gained entrance to the store by breaking through a brick wall in the basement. After forcing the five persons into the basement cooler, the robbers fled with $3,500 taken from a safe.

Cleveland UAW Chief Raps Plan

CLEVELAND (U) — Opposition to the United Automobile Workers' plan to make profit sharing a part of this year's bargaining program in the auto industry was voiced Sunday night by the president of a 6,000-member UAW local.

Francis J. Smith, president of Chevrolet Local 1008 here, said the program "does not reflect the desires of the membership." The plan, supported by UAW President Walter Reuther, is an arrangement under which employees of the auto companies and customers who buy the cars would share in the manufacturer's profits.

Instead, Smith called for a "realistic wage increase."

Young's Death Slightly Dents N.Y.C. Stock

NEW YORK (U) — New York Central shares weathered the shock of board chairman Robert R. Young's suicide, and the rest of the stock market was mixed in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Airlines advanced. The rail section as a whole was a shade higher.

Prices of key stocks showed changes ranging generally from fractions to a point.

New York Central's opening was delayed an hour and a half as stock exchange officials matched a large number of buy and sell orders. The stock finally opened on a big block of 12,000 shares, off ¼ at 15½. It then traded unchanged from its previous close.

Later is sold at its opening price on a block of 1,600 shares.

In subsequent dealings it showed a loss of ¼ to 15½—well above its 1957-58 low of 13½.

Meanwhile, stock of Allegheny Corp., the holding company which Young headed, also showed a fractional loss in moderately active dealings.

Airlines were boosted by news that the CAB offered what amounts to a 6

Sales Tax Deadline Near

Examiner Plans Friday Visit

All persons having Ohio vendors' licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by Friday for the period July 1 to December 31, 1957, according to announcement today by the Department of Taxation, Division of Sales, Excise and Highway Use Taxes.

Returns should be the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than January 31 to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have an examiner or examiners stationed at the Pickaway County Courthouse Friday.

Vendors seeking assistance from examiners will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over for the period July 1 to December 31, 1957.

Vendors will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the last half of 1957.

VENDORS ARE NO longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true.

When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus, Ohio. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance in the amount of tax due should accompany the return, made payable to the Treasurer of State, either by check, draft or money order.

Ex-Circleville Container Man Retires

C. Rosa Hunsicker, formerly of Circleville, retired from Container Corporation of America January 1, after 24 years of service with the company. Most recently, he was an advisor on building and equipment for the firm's new $30 million bleached pulp and paperboard mill at Brewton, Ala.

Before this, he had the responsibility of building the company's kraft pulp mill at Fernandina, Fla., where he remained as plant manager until January, 1950.

Hunsicker joined Container Corporation in 1933 at its Circleville paperboard mill and was made manager the following year. In 1937, he was transferred to Fernandina where he developed plans for the company's new kraft mill, being appointed advisory director of the mill in 1950.

2 Girls Die Arm-in-Arm on Rail Trestle

BLUFF CITY, Tenn. (U-P)—Two frightened little girls were thrown to their deaths from a railroad trestle Saturday. Witnesses say one could have lived if she had abandoned the other.

It wasn't that 13-year-old Pamela Harmon didn't want to live. Twice her fright sent her scrambling toward a water barrel where she could have pulled herself out of reach of danger.

But twice she turned again toward the oncoming train when her friend Dorothea Miller, 11, screamed. Dorothea's foot was caught in the trestle.

The second time Pamela put her arms around Dorothea and the two faced the oncoming train together.

They fell into the icy waters of the Holston River 75 feet below.

Pamela's brother David, 10, and two other children watched the drama. They had found the trestle too hazardous a way to cross the river to a friend's house.

Tire Tool, Jack Reported Stolen

Henry Caudill reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Saturday that a tire tool and bumper jack were missing from his service station at Gold Cliff Park, five miles south of Circleville.

The equipment is valued at $22. Deputy Charles Felkey handled the investigation.

5 Elderly Men Killed In Iowa Hotel Blaze

DES MOINES (U-P)—Five elderly men perished of suffocation early today in a $50,000 fire at the 75 cents-a-night Olympia hotel.

Gov. O'Neill Suffers 'Mild' Heart Attack

sicians said he is getting all the treatment at home that he could receive in a hospital.

"He is happier there," they added.

Reports said the governor spent a restless night, that his temperature is almost normal, his pulse regular and at a normal rate throughout his illness. His blood pressure has remained normal, they added.

The governor is serving the second year of his first two-year term and has announced for election to a four-year term which would start next January.

He formerly served three terms as attorney general and six two-year terms in the Ohio House, one of them as speaker.

Conefry said the physicians plan further tests, but "will not make any further prognosis immediately, nor discuss a hypothetical case of a man 42 years old." (O'Neill will be 42 next Feb. 14).

The doctors also will not make any conjecture when he will be able to leave the mansion.

Conefry quoted the doctors as saying:

"In the first place, there was no earlier announcement because they have been running tests to determine what the diagnosis would be. They are continuing those tests. There will be additional tests today."

It was pointed out that the governor's family has a good medical history. His father, a resident of Marietta, was 86 years old when he died. There has been no history of high blood pressure in the family, spokesmen added.

The last report at 9:45 a. m. said the governor's temperature and blood pressure were satisfactory. Conefry expressed belief that the governor would be able to transact office business at the mansion. A nurse is on duty there.

Conefry said the governor expressed belief his attack occurred aboard a plane on the day to Dayton Wednesday afternoon. John Hermanies of Cincinnati, an office aide, was with O'Neill at the time.

"The governor told me that while they were above Springfield, he felt uncomfortable," Hermanies reported. He said the governor told him he felt a slight tightening across his chest and in one arm. It did not increase when the plane set down at Springfield because of bad weather.

The governor and Hermanies continued to Dayton in a state highway patrol car. At Dayton the governor participated in a groundbreaking ceremony for a children's psychiatric center by operating a power shovel.

After the ground-breaking he went to a nearby schoolhouse because of the bad weather and delivered a speech indoors.

From there he went to the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton for a press conference. Later he attended a cocktail party where he sipped some gingerale. In the evening he attended a Chamber of Commerce dinner at which he gave the principal address.

He was driven back to Columbus from Dayton by car. Grant Scott, a prison trustee, was the driver. Reports said the governor felt increasing discomfort on the way home and loosened his tie and belt.

He arrived at the mansion about 11:45 p. m. and called in Dr. Kirk, who lives nearby.

Dr. Kirk gave him a hypodermic and the governor reportedly spent a restless night. But he felt all the following day.

"Since then he has not felt as though he was sick," Conefry said. The governor has not been placed on a diet, Conefry added.

Mrs. O'Neill said her husband had breakfast about 8:45 a. m. today. He had grapefruit, a boiled egg and drank some water. He does not drink coffee.

Dr. Nelson was called in last Thursday. Conefry said the physicians had been running tests and reports would be issued on developments.

Last September the governor was in bed for about five days with a cold and ear ailment. He was absent from his office for about a week at that time.

Dr. Kirk is a laboratory diagnostician and heart specialist. Conefry said the physician had made no report as yet on an electrocardiogram that was taken.

Dr. Nelson is an internal medical expert with wide experience in heart cases for the last 25 years. Conefry said he expected another report from the physicians after 4 p. m. today.

Schools Get Biggest Share Of State Tax Distribution

Out of every $100 in real estate, public utility and trailer taxes distributed in 1957 by Ohio county auditors, schools received $62.45; cities and villages, $21.03; counties, $12.85; townships, $2.92; and the state 75 cents to pay bonus bonds.

Total distribution to each was: to schools, $309,556,589.67; to cities and villages, $101,241,671.18; to counties, $61,879,207.50; to townships, $14,058,283.69; to the state $3,529,909.72. State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced these totals showing how property taxes were divided after totaling tax settlement reports from county auditors.

The total 1957 distribution to political sub-divisions was $481,265,720.47, as compared with $457,896,140.06 in 1956. Special assessments collected in 1957 ran the total property tax distribution to $498,828,496.93.

The distribution of real estate, public utility and trailer taxes in Pickaway County was as follows: County, $249,119.88; townships, $118,603.80; schools, $911,807.12, and cities and villages $91,730.46.

Christians Urged To Shelve Denominational 'Barriers'

COLUMBUS (U-P)—Christians should overcome denominational barriers and work together, a churchman told the opening session of the 39th annual Ohio Pastors Convention today.

Dr. J. Robert Nelson, dean of the Divinity School of Vanderbilt University, took his lead from the convention theme, "The Nature of the Unity We Seek."

"Until Christians are able to overcome all secondary divisions and estrangements from one another, they cannot with clear conscience proclaim the gospel of the reconciling work of Christ," Dr. Nelson declared.

The youthful minister said such unity does not mean total mergers or amalgamations of one denomination with another, although they may come eventually.

At present, he said, there are many practical reasons "why Christians ought to get together and work together as one people."

Among the reasons he cited were that Protestants can be a more potent influence in society and that unity will enrich their understanding of the Christian faith.

Dr. H. Beecher Hicks, pastor of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, Columbus, and chairman of the convention, opened the morning session.

Dr. Hicks is the first Negro minister to serve as chairman of a state ministerial association. The Ohio Pastors Convention is the largest ministerial group in the country.

The final speaker of the morning session was Dr. Harold A. Bosley, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Evanston, Ill. Dr. Bosley will speak each day on the topic "Foundations of Christian Ethics—Our Faith in God."

The business meeting of the assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches will be held tonight. The principal address will be given by the Right Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, bishop of the Episcopal Church, Diocese of Ohio, and president of the Province of Midwest Episcopal Church U.S.A.

As in the past, one feature of the convention will be the finals of the Prince of Peace declamation contest, scheduled Wednesday morning.

Rites Slated Tuesday for Rail Tycoon

NEWPORT, R. I. (U-P)—The body of railroad tycoon Robert R. Young was due here today aboard his private railroad car for burial Tuesday next to the body of his only child.

The 60-year-old board chairman of the New York Central Railroad took his life with a blast from a double-barreled 20-gauge shotgun Saturday.

The body was found in the top floor billiard room of his 23-room winter mansion at West Palm Beach, Fla., by members of his household staff.

Authorities said the death was suicide. They could give no immediate reason.

Young's body was accompanied by his widow, the former Anita Ten Eyck O'Keefe, fellow members of the New York Central board and friends of the family.

Young will be buried in St. Mary's Episcopal churchyard, in nearby Portsmouth, next to the body of his daughter Eleanor, killed in a plane crash in Matamuck, R. I., in 1941.

Only a few days ago, Young presided at a meeting of the New York Central Railroad Board of Directors at which it was voted not to declare a dividend for the present.

New York Central's earnings for December and 1957 were expected to be announced today but two men in Young's financial empire said in advance finances had nothing to do with Young's suicide.

Hungarian Premier Resigns Position

BUDAPEST, Hungary (U-P)—Premier Janos Kadar offered his resignation to Hungary's Parliament today. He will continue to run the country's Red regime as first secretary of the Communist party.

Kadar, in a speech, proposed that his 72-year-old first deputy, Prene Muenich, step up to the premiership.

Revenue Agency Reverses Expense Account Ruling

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's an explanation of the Internal Revenue Service's stand on the controversial line 6 (a), sixth in a series of eight articles designed to aid you in filing your tax return on 1957 income. Clip and save it for use in preparing your tax form.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures

Last fall the word got out that the Internal Revenue Service was adding a new line to form 1040 for the reporting of job-connected travel expenses and money that taxpayers spent on expense accounts.

The idea was to crack down on taxpayers living high off expense accounts, but failing to treat this expense account money as income.

Putting the new line 6(a) on the first page of form 1040 had one basic purpose: to bring right up to the front the total amount claimed as business expenses.

That way it could be checked easily, without opening each individual form.

Anyone reporting abnormally high expense accounts would be suspected and probably would be asked to justify his deductions.

There has been a rule on the books since 1921 requiring that all money received on expense accounts be reported as income.

Money actually spent on job-connected expenses, of course, could be deducted.

THE RULE doesn't differentiate between the grocery clerk who gets 30 cents trolley fare to take a box of groceries to Mrs. Jones' house, and the big executive who takes a trip around the world and chalks it off to business expenses.

But if the Internal Revenue Service was going to crack down, it had to get a report from everyone. Thus the official word was that anyone who had any sort of expense account would have to fill in the new line.

The news was greeted with howls of protest. The average taxpayer, who has been breaking even or maybe making a little bit on his expense accounts for years just didn't have the records to back up the required statements.

And his employers could foresee thousands of dollars spent in digging up those records for him.

A few weeks later the revenue service backed down. It acknowledged that the decision to add the new line had not been made public until 10 months of the tax year had passed, and hence had a retroactive effect.

Taxpayers this year, the IRS decided, could treat those travel and reimbursed expenses, etc., for 1957 just as they had in the past.

But the announcement carried the warning that taxpayers should keep adequate records during 1958 so they'll be in a position to make an accounting next year.

THIS IS WHAT it means to you: If in 1956 you were given $200 in expense account money by your employer and you didn't report it as income, you don't have to report anything you got in 1957 on an expense account. That's true.

Schoolhouse Sale

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis. (AP)—The Pleasant Valley School — one of the few octagonal schoolhouses in the nation — is up for sale.

whether you broke exactly even or made a profit.

However, if you reported that $200 as income (which you should have), and then deducted what you actually spent for your employer, you should follow that same procedure this year.

The IRS acknowledges that thousands of taxpayers haven't—in past years—been reporting the comparatively small amounts they get for cab fares, meals bought while working overtime, telephone calls, stamps etc. And, frankly, the IRS hasn't been too much concerned with that fact.

But this much seems certain—the IRS wants to get at those taxpayers who have been using their expense accounts to cheat the government and, thus, other taxpayers. So, this will probably be the last time you'll have a choice as to whether to make a report on your expense account.

EVEN THOUGH you aren't required to use line 6(a) this year, it may be to your advantage to do so.

The items to be included on this line are:

1. Out-of-town travel expenses. This means a trip away from the new line.

Insurance Firm Chieftain Jailed

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—A year ago John R. Cooney appeared the pillar of integrity in the national insurance field. Today he was in a state prison hospital bed.

Cooney, 66, was sent directly to the hospital ward Friday after a prison doctor found him too sick to start serving his 1-2 year term for embezzlement.

He was brought to the prison by sheriff's deputies from Essex County, where he had pleaded no defense to accusations of siphoning $262,000 from the Loyalty Insurance Group companies he headed at $85,000-a-year.

city where you normally work, and staying away at least overnight.

The expenses can include the cost of transportation meals and lodging, and such things as tips to the porter, baggage charges, cabs, hire of public stenographers etc.

You can't, however, include here any entertainment expenses or such personal expenses as getting your suit pressed.

2. Other transportation expenses. This would include the use of your own automobile around the city where you work while on business for your employer, or cab, subway or trolley fares while on this business.

3. EXPENSES OF outside salesmen. This includes all necessary and ordinary expenses incurred by outside salesmen. It applies only to full-time salesmen who solicit business for their employers away from their employers' place of business.

4. Any other job-connected expenses incurred by you for which you are reimbursed by your employer.

(Unlike the first three categories, in this group your expenses must not exceed the amount you received from your employer. If they do exceed your reimbursement, the additional expenses will have to be entered along itemized deductions on page 2 of form 1040 to lower your tax.)

Expenses in these four categories (remember the limit on category 4) may be deducted on line 6(a). However, any money your employer gave you during the year to take care of these expenses must be included as income on line 5.

NOW IF YOUR expenses outrun your reimbursement, it obviously is to your advantage to list them. Your expense deductions will be greater than your expense "income," and by that amount you will reduce your adjusted gross income.

And the adjusted gross income is the basic figure, the important one, in determining what you owe Uncle Sam in taxes.

A complete breakdown of allowable job-connected expenses must be attached to your form if you use line 6(a). You can either do it on a separate sheet of paper, or ask the IRS to send you a copy of form 2106, which is for that specific purpose.

The breakdown should include money spent on transportation fares, meals and lodging, local transportation, and automobile expenses.

You should also make a further breakdown of the automobile expenses, showing the amount spent for fuel, repairs, depreciation, etc.

The deductions outlined above are the only ones that can be deducted on line 6(a).

The next article will tell you about other job-connected expenses that can be itemized on page 2 of the form 1040—expenses such as union dues, tools you must buy, etc., and other job-connected expenses for which you are not reimbursed.

Drinking Party Ends in Wild, Fatal Shooting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An employee of the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation was fatally shot at the climax of a wild drinking party with his estranged wife Sunday, police said.

Dr. Carl E. Teterick, deputy county coroner, said Joseph Spencer Martin Jr., 28, apparently shot himself in the chest. But Teterick added he is unable to determine whether the shooting was accidental or intentional.

Martin's estranged wife, Betty, 43, was released from police custody after questioning. Police said they were satisfied she was not in the room when the shooting occurred.

Police said she told them that shortly after she went to visit her husband, he started firing the revolver at lined-up beer bottles.

She told police she went into another room to sleep and when she woke up later, Martin told her he had shot himself and had telephoned police for help.

Martin died about an hour after police found him. They theorized that he may have fallen and discharged the gun.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The 500 billion electron volt atom smasher planned by the Midwestern Universities Research Assn. has received a financial boost from an unexpected source.

M. Sgt. Norman F. Perry, stationed in the Mediterranean area with the Corps of Engineers, sent $10 to MURA headquarters here.

"This donation upsets my budget," Perry wrote, "but for my family's sake and for every American's, let's be first again."

The smasher is expected to be 50 times more powerful than the largest currently operating — a Russian unit. Estimated cost of the MURA project: 75 to 100 million dollars.

Capital Housewives Set Up 'Pet Peeve Department'

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital housewives appear to be reaching the boiling point, particularly over new methods of packaging food and high pressure advertising techniques.

The Washington Chapter of Housewives United, registered lobbyists organized in 1951 to fight rising living costs, has even set up a special "pet peeve department" to air the gripes.

Mrs. Louis B. Wright, wife of the director of the Folger Shakespeare Library and president of the housewives' group, says the organization's correspondence shows a great desire for corrective action.

Mrs. Mastin G. White, vice president, in a recent newsletter sent to members, expresses great concern over high-pressure advertising "where the most extravagant claims are made for all kinds of products which are often inferior, completely impractical and too high-priced."

Mrs. Robert Y. Kerr, a former government official, attacks "built in obsolescence — insuring not only that what you buy this year will very soon look old-fashioned, but insuring also that there will be small chance of getting parts for repairing it."

"You may send it back to the factory for repairs," she says, "but often you have no choice but to throw it away."

Mrs. Ralph Flanders, wife of the Republican senator from Vermont, writes: "I got into the gripe-state-of-mind because I rave and roar inwardly whenever I must buy potatoes, onions, and sometimes fruit, sight unseen."

Several women begged uniformity in sizes of children's clothes, claiming "one manufacturer's size 6, or example, was not another manufacturer's size 6."

Mrs. Wesley Pierson, who hopes a housewives organization can get started in her hometown of Parkville, Mo., is concerned about the high price of medicine. She says every time she has a prescription filled it seems she "hands out a $3 bill and gets very little change back, if any."

"The group here in Washington has been concerned about this matter, too," says Mrs. Wright. "We wish Housewives United could go deeper into the subject some day—also hospital expenses, and finally, the high cost of dying and being buried!"

San Marino, the tiny republic within the borders of Italy, has a bust of Abraham Lincoln in its Government Palace.

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Division of Vital Statistics reported today a 2.7 per cent increase in births and a 2.5 per cent increase in deaths in the state during 1957.

The division of the Ohio Department of Health said these figures are based on an actual count of birth and death certificates for 11 months of 1957 and an estimate of certificates for December, 1957.

They indicate a total of 241,517 births and 87,669 deaths in 1956, the division reported.

Revenue Agency Reverses Expense Account Ruling

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's an explanation of the Internal Revenue Service's stand on the controversial line 6 (a), sixth in a series of eight articles designed to aid you in filing your tax return on 1957 income. Clip and save it for use in preparing your tax form.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures

Last fall the word got out that the Internal Revenue Service was adding a new line to form 1040 for the reporting of job-connected travel expenses and money that taxpayers spent on expense accounts.

The idea was to crack down on taxpayers living high off expense accounts, but failing to treat this expense account money as income.

Putting the new line 6(a) on the first page of form 1040 had one basic purpose: to bring right up to the front the total amount claimed as business expenses. That way it could be checked easily, without opening each individual form.

Anyone reporting abnormally high expense accounts would be suspect and probably would be asked to justify his deductions.

There has been a rule on the books since 1921 requiring that all money received on expense accounts be reported as income. Money actually spent on job-connected expenses, of course, could be deducted.

THE RULE doesn't differentiate between the grocery clerk who gets 30 cents trolley fare to take a box of groceries to Mrs. Jones' house, and the big executive who takes a trip around the world and chalks it off to business expenses.

But if the Internal Revenue Service was going to crack down, it had to get a report from everyone. Thus the official word was that anyone who had any sort of expense account would have to fill in the new line.

The news was greeted with howls of protest. The average taxpayer, who has been breaking even or maybe making a little bit on his expense accounts for years just didn't have the records to back up the required statements.

And his employers could foresee thousands of dollars spent in digging up those records for him.

A few weeks later the revenue service backed down. It acknowledged that the decision to add the new line had not been made public until 10 months of the tax year had passed, and hence had a retroactive effect.

Taxpayers this year, the IRS decided, could treat those travel and reimbursed expenses, etc., for 1957 just as they had in the past.

But the announcement carried the warning that taxpayers should keep adequate records during 1958 so they'll be in a position to make an accounting next year.

THIS IS WHAT it means to you: If in 1956 you were given $200 in expense account money by your employer and you didn't report it as income, you don't have to report anything you got in 1957 on an expense account. That's true.

Can't Have Missiles, Roads

The administration's new budget contains one shift of funds that has already aroused controversy and raises some interesting speculations for the future.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks has announced that $68 million — peanuts in government spending — will be trimmed from the fund for interstate highways. About half of the amount is to be channeled to the federal forest and public lands programs and the remainder into the Treasury. This proposal has already brought cries of "raid" from some members of Congress.

Presumably these funds would be restored to highway spending at a later date

—although how that will be easier to manage than now is not clear. And a case could be made for the reasoning that as the states have been slow in starting their interstate highway construction, it is bad financing to have money lying idle when it is so desperately needed elsewhere.

The budgetary switch of funds raises the question: If billions more are needed for defense, and if domestic programs are to be cut, can the mammoth plan of ultra-high standard roads remain untouched.

Can the nation have both adequate defense and the luxury of 41,000 miles of limited access, multi-lane divided highways to drive on?

Non-Farm Income Growing

More than one-third of the net income of farmers in America now is derived from non-farm sources. This startling statistic was revealed at a recent Outlook Conference held by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This is a phenomenon that is occurring all over the United States. Evidence that it is the low income and marginal farmers who receive the major share of non-farm income was also produced at the conference.

The 2 million medium to high production farms (those with annual sales of $2,500 or more) received an average of about one-fourth of their total family income from off-farm sources in 1956. The low production farms, numbering 2.7 million, derived three-fourths of their income from non-farm sources.

Two facts were also brought out at the conference:

Those in agriculture with low incomes are supplementing farm incomes by more off-farm employment to remain in farming even though total income may still provide only a low standard of living.

And the number of low-production farms is declining. Apparently many of these farmers found that devoting all their labors to off-farm employment provides a larger family income than dividing their labors between farm and non-farm employment.

It's 1958--Watch Expenses

With the new year now well under way, it is well to be reminded that Uncle Sam this year is taking a much closer interest in the expense accounts of millions of Americans.

Expense account spenders, who reacted violently to the news that the government was going to demand an accounting of 1957 spending, are warned that the Internal Revenue Service's forbearance is at an end. The laws are on the books, and the IRS intends to follow them.

So those using expense accounts have been advised to keep a faithful record of all expense money paid out during 1958 and actual notations of how it is spent. If a large part of their time will be taken up in bookkeeping for the government, so be it.

A year from now they make out their income tax returns for 1958 these persons will be asked to account for their expenditures, or else. The purpose is to keep them from listing as tax deductions any expenditures not legitimate business expenditures. Who decides what is a legitimate business expenditure? The IRS.

And if any taxpayer collects more expense money from his boss than he actually spends, his return had better show this, so help him. The excess will be treated as taxable income.

Needed: 2 Fridays a Week

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Some optimists believe one way to reform the world is to reform the present calendar.

Instead of a 12-month year, they would have us adopt a 13-month year. Each month would be 28 days long for a total of 364 days and the 365th day would be bonus day for worldwide celebration.

There would be no middle of the week holidays. All holidays would fall on weekends, thus extending these joyous periods to three days.

All such schemes to enhance the happiness of mankind by modifying the calendar, however, have so far fallen flat. Why? Not, perhaps, because of the common man's stubborn resistance to change. The true answer may be this—because the proposed changes don't go far enough. The gains achieved don't seem quite worth the nuisance of the effort required.

If we're going to make a change requires sacrifice—and change? Why not adopt a new calendar with two Friday's instead of one?

This might require a four-day work week instead of the present five-day one, but after all any change requires sacrifice—and this is a sacrifice more and more people seem willing to face.

"Why not two Sundays or two Saturdays instead of two Friday's," someone might well ask.

It is true that a week with two Sundays (one for playing golf, one for going to church) holds certain moral advantages. But it also has obvious disadvantages. What wife wants to cook two Sunday dinners a week? Who has the endurance to watch those Sunday night television shows twice in seven days?

It is even easier to wash out the argument for a week with two Saturdays. Saturday used to be the get-paid-have-a-haircut-take-a-bath-and-spend-a-night-on-on-the-town day. But that was a generation ago.

Today Friday is the glamor day of the week, and Saturday is just a kind of misfit recover-get-well-and-rake-the-leaves day which nobody really quite knows what to do with. It is for all those dull little projects you can't get done during the rest of the week.

Double mankind's Friday's and you double mankind's cheer. Double a man's paydays and he will have twice as much fun. He will even willingly pay enough taxes to support his government in the style to which it wants to become accustomed. And, as everybody knows, a happy government makes for happier people.

Good TV Versus Commercials

By George Sokolsky

It would seem to me that Congress ought to leave the question of "Toll T.V." or "Advertisers' T.V." to the consumer. After all, if you or I are willing to pay a quarter to see Ward Bond drive a wagon, while boy kisses girl and the Indians hoopla, that ought to be our option. There can be no public reasons for opposing Toll T.V., although there may be many private ones.

Recently, having become more sedentary, I like, very late at night, to turn on an old-fashioned movie, some of which are very amusing. But I grow weary of having the sequence interrupted by a girl dancing a ballet in front of a box of soap or a fellow with a beard shaving it off, or a woman squirting some stuff on herself to avoid smelling like a human being. These interruptions spoil the picture for me, and therefore I am aroused emotionally against the products. It would be worth two quarters to see the picture without the interruptions.

But what is even worse than the interruptions is the extremely low quality of the advertisements. Do you really believe that one filter tip is superior to another and that if you have a headache one kind of stuff gets rid of it faster than the other?

If this is true, the FTC is doing a very bad job because it should not permit the inferior commodity to advertise at all. Besides, I don't have a headache, and I hate anyone who suggests that I may have a headache. The suggestion might bring one on. So now, I have a device which someone sent me that knocks everything off the air which I reject. But most of the time I forget to use it.

I simply leave the room when the bad advertising comes on. Who needs to know how women make their hair look fancy? When I was young, all that interested me was that a girl was attractive. Nowadays, it is doubly so because I am reaching those years of wisdom and selectivity when beauty is its own reward.

Why spoil my illusions by telling me that the young thing really looks like an old hag, but she has some stuff which she buys in a drug store that removes or erases all her blemishes, all marks of character and refinement, that colors her hair and shades her eyebrows and distorts her mouth and sets her hair and gives her curls, natural and unnatural?

All I want to do is to escape for an hour, before going to bed, from the trials and tribulations of life and politics and—Nikita Khrushchev and George Kennan, the Sputnik and the Recession, and watch a tough guy murder a dame and get caught by a cop who nearly loses an arm and a leg doing it. Having thus been lulled to peace, I gently sigh at the normalcy of life in familiar surroundings. But no! Even before I can lift myself from a soft chaise longue, I am told how to clean a sewer.

I willingly would pay four quarters not to be told how to clean a sewer. I have just seen virtue triumph over vice; I have just seen Humphrey Bogart get his just deserts—but no! I must also be told how to clean a sewer. I don't own a sewer. All I want is to see a picture and I'm willing to pay to see it.

There is a committee of Congress called House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee which has to pass on this subject. It is said that a combination of networks and theater-owners are organized against natural human progress, namely "Toll T.V." I don't blame them. The networks make money from advertising and the movie houses are having a tough time as it is.

However, a little competition might help them both to improve their product which is pretty poor. Whenever it is necessary to put a sign in a theater marked, "Applause" which flashes on and off urgently when applause is desirable, the show is self-confessedly no good. If the stuff is good, people watching it just naturally applaud. Even the advertisements might be less vulgar, as some really are. I would like to hear one fair and honest argument against Toll T.V. from the consumers' standpoint.

Pneumonia Deaths Still High

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

This is pneumonia and influenza weather. There are three times as many deaths from these two diseases during January and February than during a summer month like August.

Unfortunately, many persons these days mistakenly believe that we don't have to worry about the flu or pneumonia any more. With our modern drugs, they feel, these diseases no longer are dangerous.

This just isn't true. The pneumonia-influenza team is the sixth leading cause of death in America. It killed about 45,000 persons last year. That's more than the total number of persons killed in motor vehicle accidents. Now don't misunderstand. By using various anti-pneumonia sera, then the sulfonamides, and, more recently, the broad-spectrum antibiotics, we have made great strides in combating the pneumonia-influenza death rate. But neither disease is licked yet—far from it!

The very young are most susceptible to the ravages of either disease. Back in 1954, the last year for which I have world figures, deaths among victims under one year were nearly 100 times higher than mortalities between the ages of 15 and 24.

Preschool children and young adults appear to have benefited most from our fight against these communicable diseases. Since 1900, doctors have slashed the mortality rates about 95 per cent for children from one to four and for persons between 15 and 34.

Statistics show that men are more likely to die from these two diseases than women. In the age bracket of 45-64, twice as many men as women die of the flu or pneumonia.

Influenza and pneumonia deaths also are twice as high among the non-white population as among whites. Traditionally, mortality rates are high among persons engaged in specific occupations such as mining and welding, since these jobs are often fatiguing and require exposure to bad weather and abrupt changes in temperature.

Working around irritating gases and dusts also is a hazard of such jobs.

More city residents survive flu or pneumonia attacks than do rural persons because of the availability of more intensive medical facilities in large cities. But general climatic factors don't appear to make a great deal of difference in mortality rates.

Question and Answer

T. C.: My little girl, who is 11, has hair on her upper lip and on her arms and legs. Otherwise, she is normal.

Would you recommend having this hair removed now?

Answer: As a rule, it would be well to wait until your child passes through puberty before any treatment such as electrolysis is attempted. Many times this hair disappears at the time of sexual maturity.

Sometimes a disorder of one of the endocrine glands, known as the adrenal gland, may be the cause of this trouble.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's no real togetherness in dancing with a bear. It never leads to going steady.

We've been waltzing with the Russian bear since World War II—on disarmament—and agreement still looks, if not impossible, years away.

The Russians wouldn't agree when they were away behind: when we had the monopoly on atomic weapons and superiority in planes to deliver them.

They're not likely to agree now when they have atomic weapons, are ahead in missiles, and may soon be ahead in planes.

What the world faces is a continued and enormous arms buildup and then one of these two possibilities:

1. A gigantic stalemate in which because both sides have the power to destroy each other, neither will take risks.

2. A Russian gamble. When it has the power to destroy the United States—if this country attempts to stop aggression—Russia may start endless small aggressions.

That is: small wars or intrigues or other devices, much bolder than anything seen so far, to take over its neighbors and the world. That policy would be a gamble that the United States, facing annihilation in a big war, would not start a big one to stop a small one.

Meanwhile, both sides laid down disarmament terms neither will accept. Since neither trusts the other, both have this problem: How to look good while arming to the teeth?

The result has been a lot of propaganda, with regular flurries of "Yes, indeed, but—" kind of talk. We've just been through one of them.

This latest one began in December when Premier Bulganin, who is becoming everybody's pen-pal, wrote letters to this country and its allies.

He proposed a summit conference to talk disarmament. This was good propaganda. Unless we answered with something positive, the Russians would look good and we'd look terrible.

It put President Eisenhower on the spot. So much so that Secretary of State Dulles indicated the Russians were beating us in propaganda. Eisenhower finally answered.

He was all for disarmament, and wanted to extend it to space missiles too, but—Before we disarm, he made it clear, we want foolproof guarantees against Russian cheating. This has been the standard American position. Congress could hardly approve any other.

Over the weekend Communist party boss Khrushchev gave an answer which also contained a big "but"—one this country could not accept. All he really did was to repeat what has become the standard Russian position.

He said Russia would discuss a ban on intercontinental missiles—but only as part of a package deal. That package must include American agreement to abandon its overseas bases.

But it's on those bases—now equipped with bombers, soon to be armed with missiles—that this country depends as its first line of defense for fast retaliation against any Russian aggression.

Can't Have Missiles, Roads

The administration's new budget contains one shift of funds that has already aroused controversy and raises some interesting speculations for the future.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks has announced that $68 million — peanuts in government spending — will be trimmed from the fund for interstate highways. About half of the amount is to be channeled to the federal forest and public lands programs and the remainder into the Treasury. This proposal has already brought cries of "raid" from some members of Congress.

Presumably these funds would be restored to highway spending at a later date

Non-Farm Income Growing

More than one-third of the net income of farmers in America now is derived from non-farm sources. This startling statistic was revealed at a recent Outlook Conference held by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This is a phenomenon that is occurring all over the United States. Evidence that it is the low income and marginal farmers who receive the major share of non-farm income was also produced at the conference.

The 2 million medium to high production farms (those with annual sales of $2,500 or more) received an average of about one-fourth of their total family income from off-farm sources in 1956. The

—although how that will be easier to manage than now is not clear. And a case could be made for the reasoning that as the states have been slow in starting their interstate highway construction, it is bad financing to have money lying idle when it is so desperately needed elsewhere.

The budgetary switch of funds raises the question: If billions more are needed for defense, and if domestic programs are to be cut, can the mammoth plan of ultra-high standard roads remain untouched?

Can the nation have both adequate defense and the luxury of 41,000 miles of limited access, multi-lane divided highways to drive on?

low production farms, numbering 2.7 million, derived three-fourths of their income from non-farm sources.

Two facts were also brought out at the conference:

Those in agriculture with low incomes are supplementing farm incomes by more off-farm employment to remain in farming even though total income may still provide only a low standard of living.

And the number of low-production farms is declining. Apparently many of these farmers found that devoting all their labors to off-farm employment provides a larger family income than dividing their labors between farm and non-farm employment.

It's 1958--Watch Expenses

With the new year now well under way, it is well to be reminded that Uncle Sam this year is taking a much closer interest in the expense accounts of millions of Americans.

Expense account spenders, who reacted violently to the news that the government was going to demand an accounting of 1957 spending, are warned that the Internal Revenue Service's forbearance is at an end. The laws are on the books, and the IRS intends to follow them.

So those using expense accounts have been advised to keep a faithful record of all expense money paid out during 1958 and actual notations of how it is spent. If a large part of their time will be taken up in bookkeeping for the government, so be it.

A year from now they make out their income tax returns for 1958 these persons will be asked to account for their expenditures, or else. The purpose is to keep them from listing as tax deductions any expenditures not legitimate business expenditures. Who decides what is a legitimate business expenditure? The IRS.

And if any taxpayer collects more expense money from his boss than he actually spends, his return had better show this, so help him. The excess will be treated as taxable income.

Needed: 2 Fridays a Week

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Some optimists believe one way to reform the world is to reform the present calendar.

Instead of a 12-month year, they would have us adopt a 13-month year. Each month would be 28 days long for a total of 364 days and the 365th day would be bonus day for worldwide celebration.

There would be no middle of the week holidays. All holidays would fall on weekends, thus extending these joyous periods to three days.

All such schemes to enhance the happiness of mankind by modifying the calendar, however, have so far fallen flat. Why? Not, perhaps, because of the common man's stubborn resistance to change. The true answer may be this—because the proposed changes don't go far enough. The gains achieved don't seem quite worth the nuisance of the effort required.

If we're going to make a change requires sacrifice—and a change? Why not adopt a new calendar with two Fridays instead of one?

This might require a four-day work week instead of the present five-day one, but after all any change requires sacrifice—and this is a sacrifice more and more people seem willing to face.

"Why not two Sundays or two Saturdays instead of two Fridays," someone might well ask.

It is true that a week with two Sundays (one for playing golf, one for going to church) holds certain moral advantages. But it also has obvious disadvantages. What wife wants to cook two Sunday dinners a week? Who has the endurance to watch those Sunday night television shows twice in seven days?

It is even easier to wash out the argument for a week with two Saturdays. Saturday used to be the get-paid-have-a-haircut-take-a-bath-and-spend-a-night-on-the-town day. But that was a generation ago.

Today Friday is the glamorous day of the week, and Saturday is just a kind of misfit recover-get-well-and-rake-the-leaves day which nobody really knows what to do with. It is for all those dull little projects you can't get done during the rest of the week.

Double mankind's Fridays and you double mankind's cheer. Double a man's paydays and he will have twice as much fun. He will even willingly pay enough taxes to support his government in the style to which it wants to become accustomed. And, as everybody knows, a happy government makes for happier people.

Plastic Holder Plan Gaining Popularity; Time Saving Claimed

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (P)—Millions of car owners this month are joining the ranks of those who slice time off their stops in service stations by using plastic embossed credit cards.

These cut even more time off the handling of credit in the accounting rooms of oil companies as they push millions of credit records through electronic tabulators. The move from the paper credit card is spreading to the hotels, with the American Hotel Assn. issuing 120,000 of its own credit cards and encouraging its members to install machines to do the accounting in jig time.

This month Esso, Texaco, Sococo and Continental started using the new system. Only a handful of oil companies still stick to the paper card method, where the service station attendant copies all the data onto invoices.

Sococo Mobil says the old process took an average of just under two minutes, while the new method cuts this to under one minute. The attendant puts the customer's card in a mechanical imprinter, which contains the dealer's identification plate (a metal one). Both bits of information are imprinted on the credit invoice. The dealer has only to write in the sale amount; the customer only to sign his name.

Makers of the cards include: Farrington Manufacturing Co. of Needham Heights, Mass., supplying among others Atlantic Refining, California Standard, Humble, Phillips, Shamrock, Shell and Tidewater; and Addressograph-Multigraph of Cleveland, whose early customers include Cities Service, Indiana Standard, Sohio, Ohio Oil, Richfield and Union Oil. Cards cost from three to six cents each, depending on the amount of data on them, and the imprinters from $26 to $44.

Oilmen say that credit card accounts are approaching one third of total service station business. Losses have been held under 1½ per cent for the most part and some companies report them much lower.

Collins, a resident of Marysville, was president of Wilmington College from 1932-40. He then became director of the division of instruction in the State Department of Education. He had held that job six years, with an interruption from 1943-45 while in the Army.

In 1946 he became superintendent of schools in Kenton, retiring three years later.

Services will be held Tuesday in Friends Church, Wilmington, with burial there also.

Voter Dilemma

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (P)—Voters have approved a 40-hour work week for policemen. But at the same time they rejected a two-mill tax intended to finance the hiring of seven additional policemen needed to keep the department up to present strength under a 40-hour week.

Policemen offered to continue working 48 hours a week, meanwhile accumulating extra vacation time at the rate of one day a week. City officials said this may not be good in the long run if policemen start taking additional 52-day vacations each year.

Courtroom Photography OK Is Urged

CLEVELAND (P)—The American Bar Assn. should permit use of miniature cameras in courtroom photography, the Ohio Newspaper Assn.'s freedom of information committee has urged.

Philip W. Porter, committee chairman, Sunday urged the bar association to consider small, silent cameras on their own merits. Inconspicuous miniature cameras should not be included in the ban on larger press cameras, television cameras and lights and radio microphones, Porter said.

The presiding judge also should be given the right to decide the issue of picture taking in his own courtroom, urged Porter, Sunday and feature editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A committee of the bar association recently recommended that canon 35, which bans all picture taking in the courtroom, be upheld.

Porter's recommendations were made in a letter to James L. Shepherd, chairman of the bar association's House of Delegates.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I write in regard to a family of six—father, mother, and four children, ages ranging from 10 to 18. The parents are college graduates, ostensibly Christians; they have a good income; and the man is a deacon in his church. Yet they are a very miserable family.

The father is of a sarcastic bullying disposition. He is especially caustic to the eldest son, now 18, and always has been.

Last year the boy—call him Eric—was sent away to school. He was quartered in an undesirable place and fell into bad company. As a result he committed a crime. The father got him out of this trouble and brought him home to reform him with "love." Since then life has been a nightmare for the boy and the family.

Eric is working and paying board at home. He is constantly berated and demeaned, and accused of all the sins and crimes. He is a really Christian boy, trying to live right; but I fear the father is going to drive him away from home and into more trouble.

At the slightest word the father is tearing his belt off and threatening to thrash Eric. He constantly recites the son's faults and makes fun of him. Is there any way to waken this man to the fact that he is ruining his own happiness and his family life? Can he be brought to see that his conduct is un-Christian?

B. F.
Dear B.F.: How to open the father's eyes to the harm he is doing is indeed a problem.

You write from a section of the country where the family relationship between husband and wife is more feudal than democratic, as compared to most of our country.

Menfolk there traditionally pride themselves on (supposed) superiority to womankind. Even these men who are warmly kind in family life tend to be paternalist and managerial towards wife as well as children—not granting the woman of the house a real partner status, by which I mean, treating her as equal, with a vote of strength in crucial matters, as her innate right.

Eric's life is being mismanaged, and twisted at the roots, in this type of household, I gather. To compensate for the father's headstrong bullying, the mother (or grandmother) may be strickenly coddling the boy behind dad's back—thereby subjecting the lad to a double dose of defective handling.

One thing is tragically evident. The father isn't qualified to "save" this boy—who urgently needs both deep understanding and fine example, on the part of adults he trusts and admires, to set him on the right path in life, and keep him there.

It follows as the day the night, that a lad brought up by a bully father would fall into bad company away from home and be led by the nose into trouble. In which case it's the father's guilt more than the son's.

To help the father if he can be helped, I recommend three educational pamphlets, that may be ordered by serial number, from the Public Affairs Committee, 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y., for 25 cents each prepaid. They are: "How to Discipline Your Children" (No. 154) by Dorothy Baruch, "Democracy Begins In The Home" (No. 192) by Ernest Osborne, and "Making the Grade As Dad" (No. 157) by Walter and Edith Meisser.

3 OU Youths Admit Trying Wreck Trains

Stiff Penalty Faces Freshmen for 'Prank' In Athens Area

ATHENS, Ohio (P)—Three Ohio University freshmen will attempt to concentrate on semester examinations this week while under federal charges of attempting to derail two trains. They called the attempts a college prank.

The youths, all sons of well-to-do Cleveland area parents, returned to Athens Sunday, free on $2,000 bond each.

The bonds were posted by their fathers after the youths were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Willard C. Walter in Chillicothe and ordered held for the grand jury.

The FBI charges that James John Onder, 19, of Rocky River; John Earl Hamm III, 18, of North Olmsted, and Gerald Baxter Hinkley, 18, of Fairview Park, attempted on two occasions to derail Baltimore & Ohio freight and mail trains in Athens.

They told Walter that their acts were a college prank, with no malice intended, and that they did not intend to wreck the trains.

But they paled when Walter told them of the maximum penalties which could be meted out to them—$10,000 fines and/or 20 years imprisonment.

Ed Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said the first derailment attempt came the morning of Jan. 18. He said the youths put up a highway - type barricade across tracks near the Athens Mulberry Street crossing. The crossing is near an Ohio U. dormitory area.

The second attempt occurred last Thursday night, Mason said, when two cinderblocks were balanced against each other across the tracks.

On both occasions, Mason said, the trains struck the obstructions, knocking them to the side. The train was delayed in Athens for minor repairs on the second occasion, stopping traffic on the line both ways for about half an hour.

Ohio U. Dean of Men Mural Hunkins said he recommended that the university's disciplinary board take no action against the three students until federal authorities complete their case.

He said cards filled out by the three and on file with the university indicated none has been in serious trouble previously.

The barricades are not the first that have been placed on tracks here. At other times, students have put snowmen and dummies on the tracks, Athens authorities said.

The railroad makes a sharp turn around the dormitory area, which is just east of the railroad station, making it impossible for the train engineer to see any distance ahead.

Youthful Rocketeers Near $400,000 Appropriation

NEW YORK (P)—Ten enthusiastic young rocketeers, who in five years of experimentation have fired more than 200 missiles into the air, now have a design which they hope the government will encourage with a $400,000 appropriation.

Their chances appear pretty good. Navy officials already have conferred with four of the lads in Washington. The whole group is in the process of being checked for security clearances.

Head and founder of the group which calls itself the American Rocket Research Society is Michael Beltran, 17, of Brooklyn. Ages of the members range from 17 to 21.

While they may be young, they have gained considerable wisdom and know-how in the experimentation and the firing of test rockets on a strip of deserted beach at Sandy Hook, N.J.

All this has brought them to an idea for a device they have affectionately dubbed "Harvey." It is a two stage, high altitude rocket which they hope to build with a type of lightweight material not ordinarily used.

The society members, with all the eagerness of conviction they are on the track of something exceptional, explain that they've planned it to be 22 feet long, with a weight of 250 pounds. They expect it to reach an altitude of 30 miles.

It would carry a load of 20 pounds and cost about $5,000 "if it works out the way we figure," said young Beltran.

Its most promising aspects, he said, are the cost and weight plus an advance "in the staging technique."

Noting the lightweight feature, he compared the $5,000 cost to what he said is about $50,000 for present rockets "in similar configurations."

However, the society figures it would take an initial appropriation of about $400,000 for research and development on the device before it could be built and fired.

The young men are seeking government funds for this purpose, and security clearance to gain access to government rocket information not available to the public.

They already have spent a year and a half developing their ideas for Harvey, which gets its nickname from the initials of its formal name: High Altitude Research Vehicle.

Tropical Evening

By SUSAN BARDEN

Colorful flowered prints bloom in these thrilling clothes that were created for romantic evenings under a tropical moon.

Designed by Sophie, they are definitely very feminine and flattering and are sure to bring their happy wearers plenty of masculine attention whether on a cruise ship or at a resort hotel.

For informal dinners and afternoon cocktail parties there is a delightful frock of white surah and white mousseline de soie. It is done in a print featuring rich, golden African daisies.

A short dance dress is of taffeta, with a matching Watteau coat, and an impressive formal gown has flowers cut out of the fabric and massed on the strapless bodice.

There is a matching stole to accompany it.

SURAH AND mousseline de soie combine in an informal party frock printed with daisies.

A COLORFUL DESIGN of violets and green leaves distinguishes a taffeta dance frock.

BOUQUETS OF rust-colored roses are printed on white surah and mousseline de soie for this beautiful long evening gown.

124 Calorie Two-in-one Dessert

Counting calories but love desserts? Here is a recipe with only 124 calories a serving that will top off any meal with a delicious treat that respects the waistline. It's actually two desserts in one and baked in a single dish. The fresh fruit flavor of creamy-smooth lemon pudding topped with golden lemon cake is a combination to satisfy both the weight watcher and thosefortunates who need not bother with calories. Lemon Sponge Pudding, made with New Pet Instant Nonfat Dry Milk, is just one of many delightful treats that can be made with this low fat sparkle and vitality product.

LEMON SPONGE PUDDING
1-3 cup sugar
1/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup New Pet Instant Nonfat Dry Milk (in dry form)
1 Tablespoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
3 eggs, separated
1 cup water
Sift sugar, flour and salt into 2-quart bowl. Mix in New Pet Instant Nonfat Dry Milk. Stir in lemon juice, lemon rind and well-beaten egg yolks. Gradually stir in water until smooth. In a 1-quart bowl, beat egg whites with rotary beater by hand, or with electric beater at high speed, until stiff. Fold into egg yolk mixture until mixed. Pour into a 1-quart baking dish. Set in shallow pan holding about 1-inch of hot water. Bake near center of 350 oven (moderate) for 35 to 40 minutes, or until top is light brown and mixture is firm. Serve warm. Makes 6 servings. 124 calories in one serving.

Big Ten Cage Race Stated To Pick Up Steam

Michigan To Defend Lead; OSU, Purdue To Vie for Runnerup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Ten basketball race picks up steam this week with a pair of games tonight and four more Saturday when league-leading Michigan returns to action after mid-semester idleness.

Only two games separate the pace-setting Wolverines from cellar-dwelling Minnesota and Illinois and it's still anybody's race even though some of the teams will have completed half of their 14-game schedule by Saturday night.

Directly behind Michigan (3-1) there's a three-way tie which involves Ohio State, Michigan State and Indiana—all one-half game off pace with 3-2 records.

Ohio State will try to take sole possession of the No. 2 spot when it takes on Purdue (2-2) at Columbus tonight. Minnesota (1-3) invades Northwestern (2-3) in the only other game scheduled.

Both Minnesota and Northwestern are coming off Saturday losses. The Gophers dropped a 73-71 regionalized decision to Iowa and Northwestern was thumped by Michigan State, 74-60. The other team to see action was Illinois which took an 81-67 drubbing from Notre Dame.

Both losing coaches had plenty of praise for their opponents last Saturday. Northwestern's Bill Rohr—beaten twice in the span of a week by Michigan State—said the Spartans "should go on to win the Big Ten title."

Johnny Green, MSU's leading scorer, paced the Spartan attack with 22 points and again turned in a top-notch performance under the boards. Captain Nick Mantis of Northwestern topped all scorers with 24 points.

Minnesota Coach Ozzie Cowles has seen all he wants of Iowa's Clarence Wordlaw. The 6-2 junior rode the bench in the first half but put in 15 points in the second half and scored Iowa's last seven points. His performance offset Minnesota's one-two punch of Ron Johnson and George Kline who scored 30 and 25 points, respectively.

"I knew Iowa must have a pretty good club if Wordlaw couldn't make the first team," said Cowles. "He did a fine job against us last year. But here he does it to us again."

Michigan will try to stretch its lead Saturday when it meets Purdue at Ann Arbor in a regionally televised game. Saturday night games find Northwestern at Illinois, Ohio State at Iowa and Minnesota at Michigan State. Indiana is at DePaul in a non-conference affair.

That swashbuckling band of Mountaineers from West Virginia blow into Durham, N.C., tonight to hang Duke's scalp alongside their other 14 victims of the basketball season.

This should be a relatively easy one for West Virginia, the top dog among the nation's court elite, for Duke has a 6-5 record.

The Mountaineers rest up after tonight and will have more than a week to solidify their forces for their meeting with St. John's of Brooklyn, the other undefeated major club, in Madison Square Garden, Feb. 6.

St. John's, with a 9-0 record, still has three games on tap before meeting West Virginia. The big hurdle for the Brooklyn Redmen comes Saturday against Temple, one of the strongest teams on the eastern seaboard.

In fact, there is no doubt about it that St. John's still is pretty much of an untested outfit. Joe Lapchick's lads still haven't met a club in the same class as West Virginia, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, or for that matter, Temple.

Meanwhile, Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats, sailing along in the No. 9 post at the moment, play Georgia Tech tonight, Georgia Wednesday and Florida Friday, all South-eastern Conference games. Victories in all three would just about lock up the race for Kentucky.

Cincinnati, rolling along in fourth place in the current ratings, is in action twice this week, against Miami of Ohio Wednesday and Duquesne Saturday.

Cincy's Oscar Robertson is leading Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas in the individual scoring race by a hair, 32.8 to 32.4. Kansas doesn't play this week, so there's nothing much Chamberlain can do except sit back and hope Robertson suddenly loses his touch.

Right behind the leaders is Elgin Baylor of Seattle who has a 30.2 average. He gets his chance to make up ground tonight against Santa Clara. Archie Dees of Indiana is fifth top scorer with an average of 25.5 points a game.

Basketball coach Eugene Lambert of Alabama played football, tennis and basketball at Arkansas. He also competed on the track team.

G-WHIZZES: According to reports, baseball's top stars, Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle, will be seeking big salary boosts this year. Williams, who reportedly got $100,000 in 1957, is said to be after $125,000 to $150,000. Mantle, who was reportedly paid $65,000 last year, is aiming at $75,000. (International)

Sons of 2 Ex-Big Leaguers Now Rookies with Chisox

NEW YORK (AP) — Sons of a couple of former major league stars grace the Chicago White Sox rookie roster which indicates a determined effort to bolster the mound staff. Seven of the 12 newcomers are pitchers.

One of these pitching newcomers is Hal Trosky Jr., son of the onetime home run slugger of the Cleveland Indians and White Sox. A big strapping right-hander — he stands 6-3 and weighs 205 pounds — young Hal built a reputation as a strikeout artist with Davenport of the Three-I League. He fanned 204 batters, an average of better than one strikeout per inning. On July 12, he fanned 15 Keokuk batters. He won 14 and lost 10 and had a 3.66 earned run average.

The other big league offspring is Chuck Lindstrom, son of Fred Lindstrom of New York Giant fame. The 21-year-old Chuck, a catcher, batted only .222 at Colorado Springs, his first year in professional baseball but he is regarded as a comer, needing only experience to make the big time.

A young pitcher given a better than even chance to make the White Sox staff is Barry Latman, a 21-year-old right-hander, brought up for a look last fall after his 13-13 record at Indianapolis. Latman has been the pitching sensation of the Venezuelan winter league this year.

Back for a second look are pitchers Joe Dahlke (3-4) at Chattanooga, Bill Dufour (4-9) at Indianapolis, Russ Heman (11-12 at Chattanooga), and Don Rudolph (8-20 at Indianapolis and Louisville). Stover McIlwain, an 18-year-old right-hander, who had a 1-2 record at Davenport, probably was invited merely to see the sights.

The newcomer manager Al Lopez admittedly counts on the most is Ron Jackson, the former bonus first baseman, who matured at Indianapolis last season. The 6-7 Western Michigan College grad, back for another trial, batted .310, cracked 21 home runs and drove in 102 runs after being farmed out last spring.

"Jackson last year had his first chance to play regularly for the full season," Lopez explained, "and you could see the tremendous strides he made both defensively and offensively after he returned to us for a few games in the fall. I really have high hopes for him. And there's no mistaking the fact that we need his power to take up some of the slack caused by the trading of Minnie Minoso and Larry Doby."

None of the remaining newcomers are given much of a chance to stick this time. They are John Romano, a 23-year-old catcher, who batted .272 in 104 games at Indianapolis; Don Prohovich, a 22-year-old third baseman, who batted only .195 in 98 games at Indianapolis and Dick Dittus, a 21-year-old outfielder, who divided his time with three clubs last year. Dittus batted .311 at Chattanooga, .299 at Indianapolis and .286 at Tulsa.

Heat Treatments Due For Thumper's Ankle

NEEDHAM, Mass. (AP) — Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams expects heat treatments to heal his ailing ankle but the amazing 39-year-old American League batting refuses to predict what he can do in the coming season.

Williams said Sunday: "The ankle doesn't bother me much." The "Big Guy" who batted .388 in 1957 sprained his ankle on a Labrador fishing trip last fall but denied reports that some bones were broken.

Ex-Marine Signs Pact To Play with Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — After two years with the U. S. Marine Corps, Eddie Rayburn, a star tackle at Rice Institute, is ready to play with the Cleveland Browns.

The 230-pounder from St. Louis has signed a contract, the club announced Sunday night. A 12th-round choice of the Browns in the 1956 National Football League player draft, he played in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., in 1955. He has played with Marine grid teams two years.

Tigers Down FH In 50-26 Contest

Forced to play a slow deliberate game the Circleville Tigers had an easy time downing Franklin Heights, 50-26, Saturday night in the local gym.

Stalling the ball as much as possible the visitors made every attempt to keep the game away from the local cagers.

The strategy worked as far as keeping the score down, but it wasn't enough to make the final tally close. The plan really backfired in the third quarter when FH failed to register a single point. The Tigers, meanwhile, collected 10.

It was almost as bad in the first period when Franklin managed only two points. Circleville, letting the visitors play the stall, collected eight.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS came to life in the second frame to hit for 10 points compared to eight for the locals. Coach Dick Boyd's men still were able to hold a 16-12 halftime lead.

The win ended Circleville's four game losing streak and gives the Tigers a record of seven wins and six losses for the season.

Bill Johnson led the way for the Tigers with 16 points. Most of his tallies were on layups in the second half. Several of his buckets were set up by playmaker Mike Hosler.

Big on Parker got hot in the second half to rack up 12 points, most of them from underneath. Don Rowland collected eight and Asa Elsea had seven, all in the last quarter.

Baptist was high for Franklin Heights with 12 points. Johnson with eight and Carper with six completed the visitors' scoring.

Circleville captured the reserve contest, 55-22. The Kittens, behind the efforts of Larry Hannahs, Bob Shadley and Jake Bailey and company, had little trouble in taking the test. Bailey was high for Circleville with 17 markers.

Five Contests On Schedule Tuesday Night

Pickaway County and area basketball, coming down the home stretch, features five games to-morrow night, nine Friday night and one Saturday night.

Tomorrow night's schedule lists Good Hope at Atlanta, Pickaway vs Alumni, Scioto at Ohio School for the Deaf, Berne Union at Amanda and Liberty Union at Stoutsville.

Friday's slate calls for Ashville at Jackson, Darby at Salt Creek, Monroe at Scioto, New Holland at Williamsport, Pickaway at Walnut, Amanda at Carroll, Laurelville at Union Furnace, Kingston at Centralia and Stoutsville at Pickerington.

The Saturday night game sends Atlanta to Madison Mills for a sectional contest.

The Friday night games involving Pickaway County teams are all league contests. The area games also are loop meetings.

Venturi Pockets Thunderbird Cash

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Ken Venturi, sharp-witted young professional from San Francisco stood off an array of more seasoned performers Sunday to win the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational golf tournament.

Venturi, 26, a pro for only 13 months, put together rounds of 70-63-66-70 for a 72-hole score of 269, 15 under par for the route, to win the Thunderbird event. It was worth $1,500 in cash and a $4,500 sports car.

En route to the payoff, Venturi disposed of three-time winner Jimmy Demaret, Gene Littler, Jack Burke, Stan Leonard and Don Fairfield.

Watson Is Winner Of Panama Open

PANAMA (AP) — Bob Watson of Aardsley on Hudson, N. Y., is $2,000 richer today as a result of his triumph in the Panama Open golf tournament.

Watson wound up Sunday with a 72-hole score of 271 to tie the Panama Country Club Course record established by Sam Snead.

Art Wall, Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., slipped to a closing 72 and finished a stroke back in second place as Watson put together a pair of 33s for a six-under-par 66.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, rallied with an eight under par 64 for a 273 and third place.

Williamsport In 44-20 Tilt

Ashville's young Broncos walked off with the Pickaway County Junior High School basketball tournament Saturday night at Jackson with a 44-20 decision over Williamsport.

Wayne Township's surprising junior cagers captured consolation honors by handing Darby a 41-22 lacing in the first game of the tourney finals.

The powerful Ashville cagers, playing like long time veterans, got down to business early and played their game with precision throughout. The outmanned but game Williamsport forces were held scoreless in the second quarter after tallying only two points in the first stanza.

The small version Broncos, meanwhile, scored nine in the first quarter and 16 the second to take a decisive 25-2 halftime lead. It was the same story in the third quarter as Ashville blazed away for 16 more while Deer creek again could manage only two.

Williamsport finally got rolling in the fourth frame to outscore the winners, 16-3. However, the early damage was too much to overcome.

Young Dick Hollenback, serving notice that he has all the makings of a future Bronco cage star, almost outscored the entire Williamsport team with 18 points. The Ashville hotshot especially was deadly on a one hand shot from far out.

The court ace also earned a trophy for some amazing foul shooting. He made a sizzling 23 of 25 free tosses to set a junior high record which will be hard to beat.

Tom Rathburn gave Hollenback some able assistance with 10 points and Danny Hollenback came through with seven, all in the first half.

Williamsport's effort to stay in the game was sparked by Noble's 10 points. Steinhauser collected six, all in the last quarter.

After a close 5-4, first quarter, Wayne had little trouble in downing the junior Trojans of Darby. The George Mallett coached Wayne cagers rolled to a 13-9 intermission lead and then really cut loose in the third period to gain a 26-11 margin.

The tall Wayne outfit utilized 16 players in the game. Bill Giffin led the pack with 12 points and Freddy Moore assisted with eight. Dickie Kline and James Lemaster each had six.

McPherson was high for Darby with 10 and Conley collected five. Darby was forced to take most of its shots from far out in view of the taller Wayne team.

Trophies were presented to Ashville for first place, Williamsport for second and Wayne third. The game ball was given to Darby for

Umpire Tells How He Fools Fussy Pitchers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacko Conlan, the National League umpire, was talking about baseball pitchers as their funny ways.

"Those pitchers who're always asking for a new ball — I fool 'em," he told listeners.

"I take the same ball they complain about, stick it in my pocket, pull it out again, and they think they have a new ball. Haw."

Heat Treatments Due For Thumper's Ankle

NEEDHAM, Mass. (AP) — Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams expects heat treatments to heal his ailing ankle but the amazing 39-year-old American League batting champion refuses to predict what he can do in the coming season.

Williams said Sunday: "The ankle doesn't bother me much." The "Big Guy" who batted .388 in 1957 sprained his ankle on a Labrador fishing trip last fall but denied reports that some bones were broken.

Ex-Marine Signs Pact To Play with Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — After two years with the U. S. Marine Corps, Eddie Rayburn, a star tackle at Rice Institute, is ready to play with the Cleveland Browns.

The 230-pounder from St. Louis has signed a contract, the club announced Sunday night. A 12th-round choice of the Browns in the 1956 National Football League player draft, he played in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., in 1955. He has played with Marine grid teams two years.

Tigers Down FH In 50-26 Contest

Forced to play a slow deliberate game the Circleville Tigers had an easy time downing Franklin Heights, 50-26, Saturday night in the local gym.

Stalling the ball as much as possible the visitors made every attempt to keep the game away from the local cagers.

The strategy worked as far as keeping the score down, but it wasn't enough to make the final tally close. The plan really backfired in the third quarter when FH failed to register a single point. The Tigers, meanwhile, collected 10.

It was almost as bad in the first period when Franklin managed only two points. Circleville, letting the visitors play the stall, collected eight.

FRANKLIN Heights came to life in the second frame to hit for 10 points compared to eight for the locals. Coach Dick Boyd's men still were able to hold a 16-12 halftime lead.

The win ended Circleville's four game losing streak and gives the Tigers a record of seven wins and six losses for the season.

Bill Johnson led the way for the Tigers with 16 points. Most of his tallies were on layups in the second half. Several of his buckets were set up by playmaker Mike Hosler.

Big on Parker got hot in the second half to rack up 12 points, most of them from underneath. Don Rowland collected eight and Asa Elsen had seven, all in the last quarter.

Baptist was high for Franklin Heights with 12 points. Johnson

Watson Is Winner Of Panama Open

PANAMA (AP) — Bob Watson of Aardsley on Hudson, N. Y., is $2,000 richer today as a result of his triumph in the Panama Open golf tournament.

Watson wound up Sunday with a 72-hole score of 271 to tie the Panama Country Club Course record established by Sam Snead.

Art Wall, Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., slipped to a closing 72 and finished a stroke back in second place as Watson put together a pair of 33s for a six-under-par 66.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, rallied with an eight under par 64 for a 273 and third place.

Broncos Stop Williamsport In 44-20 Tilt

Ashville's young Broncos walked off with the Pickaway County Junior High School basketball tournament Saturday night at Jackson with a 44-20 decision over Williamsport.

Wayne Township's surprising junior cagers captured consolation honors by handing Darby a 41-22 lacing in the first game of the tourney finals.

The powerful Ashville cagers, playing like long time veterans, got down to business early and played their game with precision throughout. The outmanned but game Williamsport forces were held scoreless in the second quarter after tallying only two points in the first stanza.

The small version Broncos, meanwhile, scored nine in the first quarter and 16 the second to take a decisive 25-2 halftime lead. It was the same story in the third quarter as Ashville blazed away for 16 more while Deer Creek again could manage only two.

Williamsport finally got rolling in the fourth frame to outscore the winners, 16-3. However, the early damage was too much to overcome.

Young Dick Hollenback, serving notice that he has all the makings of a future Bronco cage star, almost outscored the entire Williamsport team with 18 points. The Ashville hotshot especially was deadly on a one hand shot from far out.

The court ace also earned a trophy for some amazing foul shooting. He made a sizzling 23 of 25 free tosses to set a junior high record which will be hard to beat.

Tom Rathburn gave Hollenback some able assistance with 10 points and Danny Hollenback came through with seven, all in the first half.

Williamsport's effort to stay in the game was sparked by Noble's 10 points. Steinhauser collected six, all in the last quarter.

After a close 5-4, first quarter, Wayne had little trouble in downing the junior Trojans of Darby. The George Mallett coached Wayne cagers rolled to a 13-9 intermission lead and then really cut loose in the third period to gain a 26-11 margin.

THE tall Wayne outfit utilized 16 players in the game. Bill Giffin led the pack with 12 points and Freddy Moore assisted with eight. Dickie Kline and James Lemaster each had six.

McPherson was high for Darby with 10 and Conley collected five. Darby was forced to take most of its shots from far out in view of the taller Wayne team.

Trophies were presented to Ashville for first place, Williamsport for second and Wayne third. The game ball was given to Darby for

Dutch Defeat University

Hollanders Score 59-55 Triumph

New Holland returned to the winning column Saturday night with a 59-55 victory over University High School, Columbus.

Though the score was close at the game's end, it doesn't tell the actual story, as the Bulldogs had an easy time of it throughout the contest. New Holland led 17 to 10 at the end of the first quarter.

At halftime the Dutchman led 36 to 25, but at times during the first half they were in front by 14 to 16 points. Big John Lininger and the Bulldogs had it all over the Franklin County youths as the Bulldog unit's defensive play was terrific.

The contest was loose all the way as the officials let the boys "play". Lininger, who could make any Class AA team competing in Central Ohio, according to North Coach Frank Truit, tallied 20 points in the first half and ended up with 25 points for the game. Lininger sat out much of the final half. In two nights "Big John" scored 52 points, and Bulldog Coach Herbert Melick said, "I only wish I had two others like him."

In the third quarter New Holland began tiring because of the all out effort they produced the preceding night against Ashville, losing 65-63. Though worn out New Holland led 48-38 at the three-quarter mark. University took advantage of the Bulldogs' tiredness and instituted a fast break in the second half and began narrowing down the score.

UNIVERSITY outscored New Holland in the fourth quarter 17-11, but the Dutchman held on for a four-point victory. Both teams shot 47 per cent from the field, but University hit 13 of 17 free throws as New Holland had a bad night at the charity line connecting on five of 13 opportunities.

Livingston led the University scoring with 23 points on jump shots from around the bucket. Lininger with 25, was hitting from all over and is improving game by game. Coach Melick said his team is looking forward to the county tournament where his boys will have more room to move around, especially Lininger.

TALLEST CAGER—At 7'3" tall, Jean Claude Lefebvre of Gonzaga, a university, Spokane, Wash., is the tallest college basketball player in the U. S. Now only a freshman, the 20-year-old French youth has scored 73 points in nine games for the frosh team but his coach said he will be a good one when he learns more about the game. He is seen in action above and also with teammate Chuck Redmond, who is 5'9" tall.

St. Louis Kid Gets Bonus Of $110,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles got Dave Nicholson in the latest battle of big league baseball's billfolds.

For a week the lineup at the door of the 18-year-old outfield prospect looked like a roster of the majors' representatives.

Dave signed a Baltimore contract Sunday and tucked away a bonus check estimated at $110,000. During the week, 15 teams went to the bidding block for the husky right-hand hitter. Only the Detroit Tigers passed.

The Nicholson family at the last minute called in a tax consultant to give an opinion on the offer with the most eventual value.

Dave said: "The Orioles offered the best future. I think I'll have a chance to reach the majors faster."

He will join the Oriole spring training camp at Scottsdale, Ariz. Nicholson's playing experience is limited to high school ball and the Ban Johnson League, where 18 to 21-year-olds try to impress the big league scouts.

Nicholson's estimated $110,000 puts him up with another St. Louis boy for the top in baseball bonus payments, Frank Baumann got about $125,000 from the Boston Red Sox in 1952. Others in the $100,000 class were Bob Taylor, Milwaukee Braves catcher signed last year, and pitcher Paul Pettit, a 1950 acquisition of the Pirates.

Soccer Referees Get Aid from Cops

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two police cruisers were needed to escort a referee to safety when a fight broke out during a soccer match here between the Cleveland American-Croatian team and the Youngstown Hungarians.

Some 300 spectators joined in the pushing and shoving which started when a Youngstown player hurled dirt in the referee's face.

Giants, Tigers Sewing Up Player Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Giants and Detroit Tigers marked time for waiver clearance today on the deal that would send first baseman Gail Harris and infielder Ossie Virgil to the Tigers for infielder Jim Finigan.

It was the only definite deal acknowledged in the weekend major league winter meetings.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants, who had said he was in the market for "an experienced outfielder" who could take some of the fielding burden off Willie Mays, said Finigan "definitely will stay with us." That removed Finigan, a third baseman-second baseman, from any part of any subsequent Giant deal for an outfielder.

The Tigers apparently were unable to get together on a deal with the Washington Senators, a club faced with the problem of dealing off Roy Sievers, the American League home run leader (42) and a drawing card, to get needed over all strength.

The big surprise of the meeting was the National League's refusal to accept the proposed territorial rights plan.

The plan had provided that any city of two million or more population was open to two teams, apparently fulfilling the "compromise" plan originally offered by Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox which would have the American League swap New York for access to Los Angeles.

Dartmouth hockey players Rod Anderson, Ryan Ostebo and Tom Wahman and basketball player Stu Hanson all were graduated from Johnson High in Minneapolis, Minn.

3 Top-Flight Cage Contests On Ohio Card for Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three top-flight games are on the Ohio college basketball schedule tonight. Ohio State will entertain Purdue, LaSalle will be at Xavier and Toledo travels to Marquette.

Not even intersectional foes can take the show away from Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, however. Robertson poured in 39 points Saturday night as the Bearcats slaughtered Wichita, 105-81.

The victory shot Cincinnati into first place in the Missouri Valley Conference, half a game ahead of Bradley, and the 39 points helped Robertson retain his 32.8 scoring average, the best in the country.

The team with the lone unbeen record (9-0) in the state—Wilmington—was idle last week. So, officially, was the team with the second best mark, Steubenville, although the Big Red handed the Quantico Marines an 84-59 drubbing in an exhibition game which did not affect Steubenville's 17-1 record.

Ohio teams won nine and lost six games in interstate competition last week, boosting the Ohioans' record against out-of-state quintets to 127 victories against 72 losses. Their scoring edge in those games is 14,702 to 13,674.

Other games this week include: Tuesday — Bowling Green at Kent State, Wilmington at Ashland; Wednesday—Xavier at Day-

Dutra and Burke Pacing Oldsters

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Two men whose brothers won golfing fame in bygone days were running one-two into today's final round of the PGA Seniors' Golf Tournament.

Big Mortie Dutra of Calexico, Calif., was pacing the field—just as he has since the tournament opened Wednesday—with a 69-71-73-213. Ed Burke of New Haven, Conn., was second at 73-70-72-215.

Dutra's brother, Olin, won the National PGA title in 1932 and the U. S. Open two years later.

Burke likewise never crashed the big time. His brother Billy won the 1931 U. S. Open.

Tom Fletcher of Purdue led the Boilermakers in scoring last season with 31 points. The halfback made 16 out of 19 placements, kicked a field goal and scored two touchdowns.

TALLEST CAGER—At 7'3" tall, Jean Claude Lefebvre of Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash., is the tallest college basketball player in the U. S. Now only a freshman, the 20-year-old French youth has scored 73 points in nine games for the frosh team but his coach said he will be a good one when he learns more about the game. He is seen in action above and also with teammate Chuck Redmond, who is 5'9" tall.

St. Louis Kid Gets Bonus Of $110,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles got Dave Nicholson in the latest battle of big league baseball's billfolds.

For a week the lineup at the door of the 18-year-old outfield prospect looked like a roster of the majors' representatives.

Dave signed a Baltimore contract Sunday and tucked away a bonus check estimated at $110,000. During the week, 15 teams went to the bidding block for the husky right-hand hitter. Only the Detroit Tigers passed.

The Nicholson family at the last minute called in a tax consultant to give an opinion on the offer with the most eventual value.

Dave said: “The Orioles offered the best future. I think I'll have a chance to reach the majors faster.”

He will join the Oriole spring training camp at Scottsdale, Ariz. Nicholson's playing experience is limited to high school ball and the Ban Johnson League, where 18 to 21-year-olds try to impress the big league scouts.

Nicholson's estimated $110,000 puts him up with another St. Louis boy for the tops in baseball bonus payments. Frank Baumann got about $125,000 from the Boston Red Sox in 1952. Others in the $100,000 class were Bob Taylor, Milwaukee Braves catcher signed last year, and pitcher Paul Pott, a 1950 acquisition of the Pirates.

Soccer Referees Get Aid from Cops

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two police cruisers were needed to escort a referee to safety when a fight broke out during a soccer match here between the Cleveland American-Croatian team and the Youngstown Hungarians.

Some 300 spectators joined in the pushing and shoving which started when a Youngstown player hurled dirt in the referee's face.

O'Neill's Record Tagged As Target for Democrats

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Target for Democratic candidates this year is the record cited by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill in calling for reelection.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, titular head of Ohio Democrats, set the stage for an attack on the record instead of the man who defeated him in the 1956 gubernatorial race.

Opponents of DiSalle in the May 6 primary election are expected to follow his cue, instead of shooting at each other.

DiSalle, 10th to announce for the Democratic nomination, promised not to "belittle" his opponents and called for the losers to unite behind the party nominee in the pay-off election campaign next November.

"As far as the incumbent governor is concerned," DiSalle said of O'Neill, "the ledger to those who expected so much in the way of leadership has been staggering. It will be my duty to carefully remind the people of this state of the pledges made . . . and the failures of the administration."

O'Neill, who faces only token primary opposition, reviewed the record of his first year as governor in a folder mailed throughout Ohio.

The folder, marked "not printed at state expense," was distributed from Marysville by a mailing firm from lists supplied by the administration. A number of surprised Democrats reported their receipt.

The same firm mailed out O'Neill nominating petitions with a request to circulate them. Democrats received some of the petitions along with editors and reporters who seldom circulate or sign them.

When O'Neill announced for his first term as governor on Nov. 21, 1955, he combined several promises with a recitation of qualifications that included six terms in the Legislature and three as attorney general.

Here are those promises, matched with claims of performance in O'Neill's own words:

Promise—Be alert to the tax burden.

Record—We have met the expenses of operating the government without new or increased taxes. Our pledge of no new taxes will be carried out.

Promise—Build highways.

Record—Highway construction contracts let in 1957 were 30 per cent greater than in any previous year in the history of our state and next year will increase by another 30 per cent. It appears now that in 1957 and 1958 Ohio will be first in the nation in highway building.

Promise—Provide humane care and treatment for the mentally ill.

Record—In 1957 Ohio established another all-time record for the construction of mental hospitals, penal institutions and correctional facilities to curb juvenile delinquency.

Giant Klan Rally Said Scheduled

MARION, S. C. (AP)—Ku Klux Klan leader James Cole, whose last rally near Maxton, N. C., was shot up and dispersed by armed Indians, says the KKK will gather "not less than 5,000 Klansmen" for another rally in that area within a month.

"We don't expect to be broken up again," Cole said at his home here. "This time there will be more Klansmen than there will be Indians and I don't expect trouble from the Indians."

Hundreds of Lumbee Indians, incensed by reports that the Klan's planned rally near Maxton Jan. 18 was intended as a warning to them against race mixing, converged on the group of about 50 Klansmen with warwhoops and gunfire. No one was seriously hurt, but state police had to rescue the Klansmen and pack them off home in their automobiles.

The 33-year-old Cole—who calls himself a Southern Free Will Baptist minister—is under indictment in Robeson County, N. C., site of the meeting, on charges of inciting riot. He has announced he will fight extradition.

"Klansmen from all over the South are pretty upset," Cole declared. "I've had offers of 3,000 men from Texas (for another Robeson County rally) and offers of men from Kentucky and South Carolina."

"It will be the greatest rally the Klan has had."

At Pembroke, N. C., Simeon Oxendine—a leader of the Indian demonstration against the Klan and son of Pembroke's Indian mayor—remarked when told of Cole's plans: "He said that, did he? Well, we'll just wait and see."

Highway Chief Is Challenged To Debate

CLEVELAND (AP)—A candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination wants to debate free-way construction standards with Charles M. Nobel, Ohio's highway chief.

Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer, has been a frequent critic of what he terms "wasteful and extravagant" free-way designs in Ohio. He issued the debate challenge Sunday.

"The O'Neill administration is afraid to debate this vital issue at a public forum and has ducked every opportunity to do so," Porter charged.

"What Noble is doing is going around feeding the public press-agent clichés instead of facts and figures that would show what the administration is doing."

Noble has maintained that design standards set by the American Assn. of State Highway Officials are "fair weather" standards.

Porter charged: "That is an insult to the intelligence of nationally eminent highway officials who prepared those standards, to the American public and the people of Ohio."

"Noble would have us believe that Ohio is right and the other 47 states are wrong."

Previous invitations to Gov. C. William O'Neill and Noble to debate the issue have been turned down, Porter said.

Businessman's Role in TV Is Under Fire by Ed Wynn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There's something wrong, says Ed Wynn, when singers like Dinah Shore and Perry Como are telling jokes, actors like Boris Karloff are dancing and comedians like Ed Wynn are doing dramatic roles.

This was Wynn's comment on the decline of comedy in films and television today. He attributes the trend to a lack of vision on the part of businessmen.

"I'm not against businessmen," he argued. "But I think they should stick to their field. I don't tell General Motors how to run their business. I don't think businessmen should dictate how entertainment should be run."

"Nothing is so essential to the nation today as amusement, which I take to mean laughter. Yet they take great comedians like Sid Caesar and Jackie Gleason off the air."

"Then they decide they need some comedy, so they give it to singers like Perry Como and Dinah Shore. They are my dear friends, but they aren't funny."

"Then they take Ed Wynn, who has been a comedian since 1934, and make a dramatic actor out of him. It doesn't make sense." The veteran comic blamed this topsy-turvy world on businessmen who attempt to establish trends regardless of public needs and tastes.

"In their endeavor to get ratings, they buy Westerns and say they don't want comics," Wynn said. "But that's the businessman's trend, not the public's."

Businessmen have no concern for the careers of comics, he added.

One of the problems in comedy field is that new comics are pushed too fast by the commercial interests, he said.

"Take the case of a young boy named Johnny Carson," Wynn cited. "He shows some promise and immediately they put him on the network with 'The Johnny Carson Show.' I pleaded with him not to let them call it that. It put him right on the spot. And what happened? After a brief run, he was off the air."

"The same happened with 'The Jack Paar Show.' It was a failure, but now he's proving him-

O'Neill's Record Tagged As Target for Democrats

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Target for Democratic candidates this year is the record cited by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill in calling for reelection.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, titular head of Ohio Democrats, set the stage for an attack on the record instead of the man who defeated him in the 1956 gubernatorial race.

Opponents of DiSalle in the May 6 primary election are expected to follow his cue, instead of shooting at each other.

DiSalle, 10th to announce for the Democratic nomination, promised not to "belittle" his opponents and called for the losers to unite behind the party nominee in the pay-off election campaign next November.

"As far as the incumbent governor is concerned," DiSalle said of O'Neill, "the letdown to those who expected so much in the way of leadership has been staggering. It will be my duty to carefully remind the people of this state of the pledges made . . . and the failures of the administration."

O'Neill, who faces only token primary opposition, reviewed the record of his first year as governor in a folder mailed throughout Ohio.

The folder, marked "not printed at state expense," was distributed from Marysville by a mailing firm from lists supplied by the administration. A number of surprised Democrats reported their receipt.

The same firm mailed out O'Neill nominating petitions with a request to circulate them. Democrats received some of the petitions along with editors and reporters who seldom circulate or sign them.

When O'Neill announced for his first term as governor on Nov. 21, 1955, he combined several promises with a recitation of qualifications that included six terms in the Legislature and three as attorney general.

Here are those promises, matched with claims of performance in O'Neill's own words:

Promise—Be alert to the tax burden.

Record—We have met the expenses of operating the government without new or increased taxes. Our pledge of no new taxes will be carried out.

Promise—Build highways. Record—Highway construction contracts let in 1957 were 30 per cent greater than in any previous year in the history of our state and next year will increase by another 30 per cent. It appears now that in 1957 and 1958 Ohio may well be first in the nation in highway building.

Promise—Provide humane care and treatment for the mentally ill.

Record—In 1957 Ohio established another all-time record for the construction of mental hospitals, penal institutions and correctional facilities to curb juvenile delinquency.

Promise—Make certain that Ohio does its share in strengthening the program for the education of our youth.

Record—Needed increased financial support to public schools was provided; 550 additional classrooms at the six state universities were completed or placed under construction; a commission was appointed by the governor to formulate a plan for the development of education beyond the high school; the governor has accepted the chairmanship of the state house conference on education under this program.

Promise—Maintain law and order.

Record—Assisted in bringing to an end the demoralizing Portsmouth telephone strike; big time gambling operations have been padlocked and smashed in Lucas County, in Stark County, in Mahoning County, in Logan County and in the city of Toledo; a strong policy of law enforcement against liquor violators has been inaugurated.

Promise—Conserve our natural resources and expand Ohio's recreational areas. Record—An orderly 10-year program for full development of all our lakes, parks and recreational areas is under way; a new law providing for sale of revenue bonds for recreational facilities was passed in 1957; efforts to stop stream pollution have resulted in the construction of 100 million dollars worth of municipal sewage treatment plants and industrial waste treatment facilities in 1957; the governor has appointed a special commission on water to prepare a program for development, use and conservation on Ohio's water resources.

Promise—Oppose extravagance. Record—Slashed these requests (for increased appropriation in 1957) by more than 100 million dollars in order to bring the budget into balance; saved five million dollars in the last six months by the imposition of strict financial controls upon the tax spenders and thus have held expenditures below appropriations by the Legislature.
